School Items.

THE School will re-assemble after the Christmas Vacation on Tuesday, February 10th.

The Three-Term system has now had a thorough trial, and the general impression seems to be that it has, on the whole, answered expectation. As far as the school programme is concerned, the chief difference seems to be that the events which used to be spread over the Second and Third Terms now all take place in the Second Term. The First Term remains very much as it was, and the new Third Term takes the place of the old Fourth. Thus there is, under the new system, just the usual congestion of events at the end of the year. During the last fortnight of the term the Tennis Tournament was finished, the Schools' Rifle Matches were decided, the Forms' Races were rowed off on the Barwon, and, incidentally, the Senior and Junior Public Examinations were carried on. In one respect, however, this year's arrangements show a decided improvement, as the "Junior Public" took place a week later than usual, and thus the awkward gap between the examinations and the close of the school year is now reduced to a minimum.

At a recent meeting of delegates from the Public Schools, the following resolution was passed as a recommendation to the Head Masters :—" That no person shall be allowed to take any part in the coaching or training of football teams, rifle teams, or athletic sports who is not an amateur as defined under the rules of the V.A.A.A. Any infringement of this rule will entail disqualification of the whole team of the school concerned."

At the recent examination for Ormond College Scholarships J. D. Rogers was successful in winning a Major Scholarship in Physics and Chemistry.

PREFECTS, 1913.

On Saturday, 8th November, an Open 5 mile Handicap Bicycle Race was held. The race started from half-way up Fisher's Hill, Highton, and the track chosen was that which runs along the river past Prince's Bridge. The turning point was the corner opposite the Albion Woollen Mills. This place was the most awkward part of the race, as the turn had to be made within rather a narrow space. The road was good with the exception of the first stretch, where there was some loose metal lying about. The finish was hard, as the last mile was all uphill. There were 18 entrants, but only about half that number started, the hill frightening some when they saw it. The limit man started at 3 o'clock with 3 mins. 30 secs., and the rest followed according to their handicaps. The race was won easily by R. W. Hope off 1 min. 40 secs. A. R. Urquhart was second from 3 min. 30 secs., and E. J. Pattinson came third off 1 min. 30 secs. Hope also won the fastest time, doing the 5 miles in 16 min. 12 secs., which was very good considering the hill at the finish, and the fact that there was a head wind most of the way back. Trophies for first and fastest time were provided for out of the entry money, while two of the Geelong cycle firms gave good trophies for second and third. Messrs. V. and S. Balfour very kindly came out and acted as starter and checker respectively.

A committee of twenty of the boys gave a Dance in Miss Cathcart's Hall on Dec. 15th. Many difficulties had to be overcome before the dance was finally arranged, not the least of which was the "Uniform," which the Hosts were to wear. "Flannels" was the final decision, and a happy one it proved too as well for appearance as comfort. About 60 couples were present, many of whom were Old Boys and their friends.. The music provided by Miss Fitzpatrick's orchestra was, as usual, all that could be desired. A most enjoyable evening was spent, and another successful function added to the already long list for this year.

The membership ticket presented annually to the College by the Melbourne Cricket Club has this year been awarded to N. A. Longden.

At the Military Sports held at Melbourne Dec. 6th, our representative, R. N. Pillow, won the mile in fine style. He has shown excellent form over this distance lately, and has lowered the College record for this race by nearly half a minute in the last two years.

Honour Badges have this year been won by N. A. Longden and C. M. Calvert. Longden has the particularly good record of having represented the College in all five branches of sport—cricket, football, rowing, running, and shooting.

After the cricket season proper was finished, two interesting matches were sandwiched in among the examinations at the end of the year. The first was the annual struggle between the VI. and V.A. Forms, in which members of the First Eleven were included. V.A. won by 5 wickets, chiefly owing to the efforts of J. Birnie, although J. Rogers, on the other side, strove hard to avert defeat. On the second occasion an Old Boys' team was got together by C. L. Andrews, and tried conclusions with a College team. A pleasant afternoon was spent, and some of the veterans showed excellent form by proxy, but no definite result was arrived at, as the afternoon was all too short for the big scores that would have been made had time permitted.

A very pleasant little function took place on the night of Tuesday, Dec. 16th, when Mr. Bayly invited a number of Old Boys to dinner, with the boarders in the Dining Hall. A most enjoyable evening was spent, and a lengthy toast list was gone through. The ball was set rolling by R. Campbell, who in a very neat little speech proposed the healths of Messrs. Bennett and Walsh, the two members of the staff who are leaving at Christmas,

After these gentlemen had suitably replied, the toast of the College was given by Paine. Rogers, the Dux of the School, made a fitting response. The next toast on the list was that of the Council, to which full justice was done by Birnie. It was responded to by Dr. A. N. McArthur, and Mr. J. L. Currie, two Old Boys, whose presence at the gathering was much appreciated by all, as they had both travelled a considerable distance to attend. L. Richardson then proposed the staff, and Mr. Price, who was received with great enthusiasm, replied. The Old Boys were next honoured at the instance of A. Urbahns. Humorous responses were made by two of the "Old Brigade," who are always sure of a hearty welcome at College gatherings—Messrs. E. R. Sparrow and A. Greenwood. Other toasts were "The Prefects," "Those who are leaving," and "The other Fellows," and these were dealt with by McArthur, W. Reid, Hooper, Dunlop, Webb, and Mr. Gibb, the last of whom was very heartily received.

One very pleasant feature of the evening was the presentation of a handsome hot-water kettle by the boys to Mr. Charles Cameron, whose marriage is to take place during the Christmas vacation. The presentation was made by Longden, who, in an excellent speech indicated the kindly feeling existing between the boys and Mr. Cameron, and wished him every happiness in his new life. Mr. Cameron, who was taken completely by surprise, acknowledged the gift in fitting terms. Hearty cheers were then given for him, and for the future Mrs. Cameron, and his health was drunk with acclamation.

After the toast list was concluded, Mr. S. B. Calvert gave a brief address, in which he pointed out to the boys the reasons why those who were leaving should at once join the Old Boys' Association. He then presented to the School a photograph of the famous tennis pair, Kearney and Glassford—two Old Boys, who for some considerable time were considered almost invincible on the court.

THE PEGASUS.

The photograph is a present from Dr. Glassford, and it is peculiarly acceptable in view of the growing interest in tennis which has sprung up in the school since the new court was given to us last year.

Before the meeting dispersed, Mr. J. D'Helin proposed the health of Mr. Bayly, and it was drunk with much enthusiasm by all present. Mr. Bayly briefly replied, and then the evening was brought to a conclusion with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne."

Cricket.

THIS season has been, on the whole, a most disappointing one. We have not won a match, and only one member of the team has shown any appreciable advance on his last year's form in either batting or bowling. This unfortunate state of things is certainly not due to the lack of keenness on the part of the boys, nor to lack of coaching. If there is any explanation, it is probably owing to the lack of practice matches, and, until some means can be found of overcoming this difficulty, we shall have very little chance of holding our own with the other schools.

The premiership was won by Melbourne Grammar School, which went through the season undefeated. Geelong Grammar School was second, and Scotch College third. We occupied the same position as last year—the lowest place on the list.

Of the individual members of the team, it is hard to say more than that they have not made the improvement expected. This criticism does not apply to Reid, who has this year suddenly developed into the best batsman in the team. He has been most consistent, and though he has not made any very big scores, he has only twice been dismissed for less than 20. He has a fair assortment of strokes, and as a rule wastes no time in making his runs.

Longden, Campbell and Birnie have all gone back this season in the most disappointing manner. These three were expected to form the backbone of the team, but their combined aggregate of runs for the year is about as much as was expected from one of them. Longden has bowled fairly well at times, but Campbell appears to have spoiled his length by altering his action, although in the last match he showed a trace of his old form. Urbahns played two good innings, and kept wickets well. Mackay did a good deal of hard work at the bowling crease, and secured the greatest number of wickets on the side. The others merely served to fill up places in the team.

The Inter-Form matches provided some exciting struggles, and aroused considerable interest. Eventually the VI. Form secured the shield by defeating VB. In the last match J. Rogers succeeded in topping the century—a very rare achievement in these games.

COLLEGE V. MELBOURNE GRAMMAR SCHOOL.

We started the second half of the season by experiencing a severe defeat at the hands of Melbourne Grammar School. The wicket was a little soft on the first day, so, on winning the toss Birnie decided to send our opponents in. The opening pair, Cox and Hughes, batted extremely well on the tricky wicket, and put up 99 runs for the partnership. They each gave chances, some very easy ones, but our boys seemed unable to hold the simplest of catches. After that a few wickets fell cheaply, but another long stand by Tolhurst and Patterson completely exhausted our bowling resources, and the remaining batsmen helped themselves to runs just as they pleased. The innings closed for 459, Tolhurst being top score with an excellent 109. Sharp hit hard for 73 not out, and Patterson, Cox, and Hughes all played good cricket for their runs. Our bowling was, as usual, weak. Paine got most wickets, and bowled one or two fair overs, but as a rule it was the batsmen who were responsible for losing their wickets. Our fielding was bad at first, but seemed to improve later on. McKindlay was especially active, and stopped some hard hits very pluckily.

We made a fair start in our first innings, and at one stage had one wicket down for about 60. Then came the inevitable collapse, and the board showed 8 for 105. Urbahns and Calvert then got together, and livened things up considerably. Urbahns was particularly aggressive, and hit hard and cleanly all round the wickets. Finally he brought the innings to a dramatic close by hitting three successive sixers, and then getting out off the fourth ball. The total was 168, and Urbahns contributed 46. This was the first time that he had got runs in school matches, and he showed that he had improved considerably since the early half of the season. Reid and Longden also batted well for 42 and 31 respectively.

In our second innings we got 124—about an average score. Reid and Urbahns were again to the fore with 37 and 31. Reid batted more carefully than usual, and made some very nice strokes. Urbahns did not attempt any more sixers, but put considerable force into some of his drives. Birnie batted carefully for 17, but no one else got double figures. The Grammar School bowling was good, and several bowlers got wickets, Patterson doing best with 5 for 26. Scores :—

COLLEGE V. SCOTCH COLLEGE.

This match took place on Thursday and Friday, Nov. 13th and 14th, but owing to bad weather play was only possible on a portion of both days. The game began about two o'clock on Thursday, and ended at the luncheon interval on the second day. Scotch won the toss, and sent us in on a distinctly bad wicket. Their bowling was accurate, and their fielding good, and the result was that we were all dismissed for 37, our lowest score in Public School matches. To this total Campbell contributed 24, there was one bye, and the remaining 10 batsmen scored 12 runs between them. They nearly all got out in the same way—by gently poking a rising ball into a fieldsman's hand. No one, except Campbell, made any attempt to hit the bowling, and they all exaggerated the difficulties of the wicket as much as possible. Of the bowlers, Rodgeron was practically unplayable to our batsmen, and he secured 6 wickets for 12 runs. Price also did well, taking 4 for 19.

The Scotch batsmen started very cautiously, and for a time it seemed probable that they also would be dismissed for a small score. Rodgerson, however, followed up his bowling performance with an excellent innings of 56, and saved the situation for his side. At the end of the day 6 wickets had fallen for 121, and for us the game was practically lost. Our bowling was painfully weak, over after over being bowled with not one ball pitched sufficiently far up to be dangerous. On the next day the wicket was somewhat easier, and the last Scotch batsmen made a good stand. Heatley was most prominent with a good display for 90 not out, and May batted well for 35. The innings closed for 241. Longden bowled a great many maiden overs, and finished up with 4 wickets for 67. Mackay took 3 for 69, and Reid 2 for 49, but not one of the bowlers took full advantage of the trickiness of the wicket. Our fielding was moderately good.

We had barely started our second innings when a tremendous downpour put a final conclusion to the match, Scotch winning on the first innings by 204 runs. Scores:—

COLLEGE V. XAVIER COLLEGE.

Our last match for the year took place on our own Oval on Nov. 21st and 22nd. We batted first, and Reid and Longden made a fairly good start as the total was 43, when Longden was bowled by Stedman for 20. The remaining batsmen simply came in and out, and the innings closed for 121. Reid made nearly half the score, and passed the half-century for the first time in Public School matches. His batting has been most consistent all through the year, and his strokes are steadily improving in quality and variety. The only other double figure score on the side was made by Mackay, who carried his bat for 11. McGinnis was the most successful bowler with 4 wickets for 20.

Xavier's first innings was also largely a one-man effort as Stedman carried his bat for 64 out of a total of 140. He played very patient cricket until near the end, when he lightened up, and put considerable force into his cuts and drives. Rush was the next highest score with 19. Our bowling was, as usual, not strikingly difficult. Mackay got four tail enders cheaply, but Longden's performance in getting 4 good wickets for 37 was of more value to the side.

We went in again at about a quarter past five, and by six o'clock had knocked up 50 runs for one wicket. At this stage our prospects appeared fairly good, as Reid was still in, and going strong. On resuming next day, however, wickets began to fall rapidly. Reid played another good innings of 39, and Burrows showed good defence for 18, but it seemed likely that the total would be smaller than that of the first innings when McArthur joined Campbell, and quite a respectable stand was made for the seventh wicket. Campbell made 44, his highest score for the year, and batted very well indeed. McArthur's contribution was 29, and, though lucky, his innings was a very valuable one. The total was 156, and thus Xavier had to get 138 to win.

At one stage it seemed probable that they would not get the runs, as Campbell was bowling well, and the batsmen were shaping irresolutely at him. When 4 wickets had fallen for 42, however, the change came. Campbell lost his length, and the batsmen began to go at the bowling with vigour and decision. Great credit is due to McQuade, McGinnis, and Ryan for the way they pulled the match out of the fire by their plucky batting. Our fielding was good enough, and no actual chances were missed, but our bowling, with the exception of Campbell's first few overs was very poor indeed. The game ended about 4 o'clock in a victory for Xavier by 4 wickets. Scores :—

PRACTICE MATCHES.

v. GEELONG.

After several ineffectual attempts to get matches with various teams, we succeeded in arranging a fixture with a club eleven of the Geelong C.C. They batted first, and made 156 for 9 wickets. Anderson hit hard for 51, and Cousens retired after making 38. In reply we made 144. Reid and Longden both showed very good form with the bat, the formers getting 48, and the latter 43. Our bowling was poor.

v. GEELONG GRAMMAR SCHOOL.

The usual practice match with our local rivals was played just before the beginning of the school matches. We were handsomely beaten, as our opponents, after losing 5 wickets cheaply, put up the respectable total of 204, and got us out for 64. For them, Chomley, Burston, and Kay all batted with confidence; while for us, Urbahns 13, Longden 11, and Mackay 11 were the only ones to reach double figures. In our second innings we did very little better, and had lost 8 wickets for 84 when time was called. This time McArthur was top scorer with 24. Our bowling does not call for special mention. Longden got 4 wickets, and Mackay 2.

SECOND ELEVEN. •;

v. GEELONG GRAMMAR SCHOOL.

This was the only match played by our Second XI, and after a close contest it ended in a victory for our opponents by 22 runs. We made 107, the best scores being Rogers 32, Fenton 17, and Blake 16. The ninth Grammar School wicket fell at about 90, and thus the finish was a most exciting one. Jackson, however, batted vigorously, and soon put the issue beyond doubt. Their total was 129, and Jackson's contribution 42 not out. We went in again and lost 6 wickets for 62, McKindlay batting well for 39.

THIRD ELEVEN.

The Third Eleven were more successful, as they beat the Grammar School in their only match by 35 runs. The credit was due chiefly to L. Reid and W. Peacock, who scored 40, and 34 not out respectively, out of a total of 136. The other side was dismissed for 101 (Lindsay 24), Spalding bowled well for us, and captured 5 wickets for 25.

JUNIOR MATCHES.

v. MELBOURNE GRAMMAR SCHOOL.

Our Juniors opened the season by defeating Melbourne Grammar School by 11 runs. The scores were :—College 87 and 56. Melbourne Grammar 27 and 105. Franklin and Campbell were our best batsmen, with scores of 40 and 20, while in the first innings Stott was very destructive with the ball, securing 7 wickets for 15 runs.

v. GEELONG GRAMMAR SCHOOL.

This match also resulted in a victory, our boys scoring 131 to our opponents' 48. R. Campbell was again to the fore with a good innings of 54, while Macfarlane showed promise in making 29. J. Hawkes was most prominent among the bowlers, and obtained the fine average of 8 wickets for 9 runs.

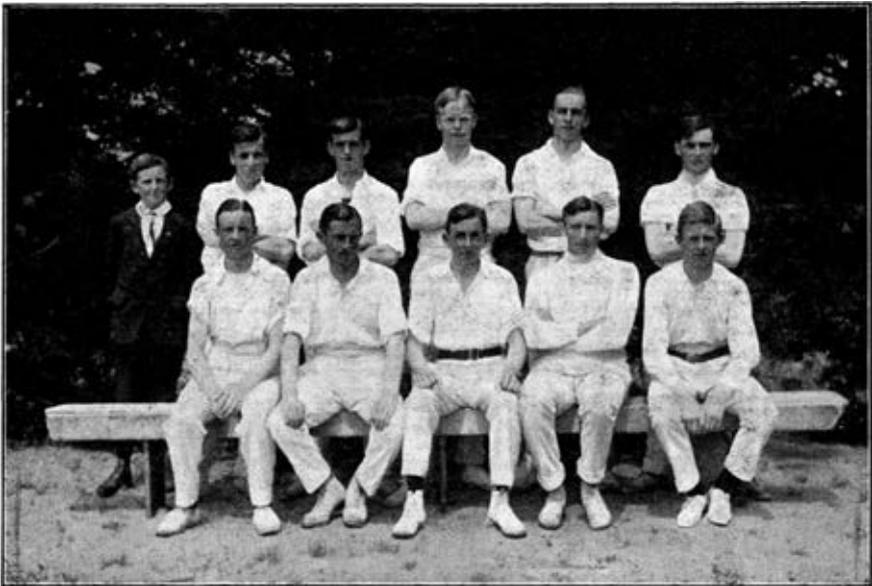

v. THE NAVAL COLLEGE.

We journeyed to Osborne House on Dec. 6th to try conclusions with the Naval College boys on their matting wicket, The result was another win for us by 13 runs, the scores being 105 to 92. The chief credit of the victory was due to J. Hawkes, who made 31 runs in good style, and took 6 wickets for 40. E. Philip also showed good form in making 20.

VI. FORM CRICKET TEAM.
 Winners of the Headmaster's Shield for 1913.

Rowing.

THE latter part of the year is always a busy time, and there are so many events claiming attention, that rowing seems to be getting crowded out. We were able, however, to be represented in the Barwon Rowing Club's Combination Eights, in which fixture the College and Grammar senior boys are annually invited to take part. These races were held on Saturday, 8th November, and F. Richardson, A. W. Dean, A. W. Gunn, A. W. Hooper, W. O. Macpherson, and C. K. Pearson were distributed among the seven different crews, but unfortunately none of them were in the winning Eight.

The Forms' Races formed the second and more important event of the term, and took place on the 16th December. It will be remembered that these races were instituted last year, the idea being to encourage rowing throughout the school. The racing was carried out under delightful weather conditions. A southerly breeze did not interfere very much with the rowing, but added a good deal to the comfort of the spectators. The rowing on the whole was good, in spite of the short time available for practice. There was a distinct advance on the form shown in these races last year, and its value as a winning factor was evident in all of them.

Mr. W. R. Bayly umpired, and W. J. Reid started, while N. A. Longden and A. W. Hooper shared the responsibility of the judging, their verdicts giving entire satisfaction. The results were as follows:—

SENIOR FOURS.

1st Heat.

UPPER IV.	v.	V.B.
G. G. Carr (str.)		P. S. O. Campbell (str.)
A. J. C. Waugh (3)		E. A. J. Stoker (3)
L. E. Reid (2)		A. R. Urquhart (2)
J. K. Peacock (bow)		T. B. Hawkes (bow)

THE COLLEGE EIGHT.
A. W. Gunn. J. G. H. Sprigg. Mr. Pincott (Coach.) G. S. McArthur. N. A. Longden.
A. A. W Hooper T. Murray. G. A. N. Mitchell. W. J. Reid.
R. N. Campbell (Cox)

Both crews got away with an excellent start and clean rowing. Upper IV. led by a few feet to the minute stump, and then V.B. drew up and held a slight advantage for some distance. The superior form of the Upper IV. then began to tell, and they drew ahead again, keeping their lead to the finish and winning by about a quarter of a length. It was a splendid race, no daylight showing between the boats at any point of the course.

2nd Heat.

VI.	v.	V.C.
A. R. H. C. Urbahns (str.)		T. E. Rand (str.)
W. O. McPherson (3)		J. A. C. Hunter (3)
C. K. Pearson (2)		A. G. Herman (2)
A. W. Dean (bow)		R. N. Campbell (bow)

VC. had a better start, but VI. soon overhauled them, and forging ahead secured a good lead, which they had no difficulty in maintaining to the finish. VC. worked hard, but lacked uniformity, and their boat consequently did not respond in the same way as VI. boat did. Won by 1.5 lengths.

Semi-Final.

UPPER iV.	v.	V.A.
.....		C. M. Webb (str.)
		R. M. S. Mitchell (3')
		L. Richardson (2)
		A. F. Campbell (bow)

After a good start VA. went ahead, and gradually secured a lead of a length. Upper IV., however, stuck well to their work, maintained their form right through, and rowed a very plucky race against a much heavier crew. Won by VA. by two lengths.

FINAL.

VI. v. V.A.

The crews started well, but very soon VA. dropped behind, being hampered a little by the coxswain taking them too near the weeds. VI. maintained their advantage for about three quarters of the distance, and then VA. came at them gamely and pressed them hard, but in the short distance left were unable to catch up, although they finished the stronger. Won by VI. by } length.

JUNIOR FOURS.

MIDDLE IV.	v.	UPPER IV.
W. R. Macpherson (str).		I. A. Campbell (str)
D. Dickson (3)		G. E. J. Franklin (3)
M. E. Scott (2)		W. D. McKindlay (2)
H. M. Hedges (bow)		J. H. Waugh (bow)

Middle IV. were rather slow at getting away, and thus enabled Upper IV. to secure a lead, which they maintained through their superior form, and won by about 2 lengths. Middle IV. were a weaker and lighter crew, but rowed gamely to the finish.

The coxswains in the above events were C. B. H. Macfarlane and G. E. M. Scott.

Cadet Corps.

THE last term of the year has always been a busy one for the Cadet Corps. In the old days the Camp at Queen's Park was the centre of interest at this season, but since that event has, wisely or unwisely, been discontinued, nothing has proved more attractive than the drill and marching competition, which was inaugurated in Geelong last year by the Cadet Encouragement Committee. One of the most pleasing facts to be learnt from the recent competition held at the Kardinia Park on Saturday, 8th November, was the marked improvement in the drill, and steadiness of every company concerned. It was a local object lesson in the value of compulsory training, and it has left the impression that the new military system has come to stay in spite of sundry warnings and threats by an unpatriotic minority. On the day of the parade about 1000 Cadets in all assembled near Belcher's fountain shortly after two o'clock, and, led by St. Augustine's Band, marched through the town to Kardinia Park. The Geelong Municipal Band, the Geelong Harbor Trust Band, the Geelong West Band, and the Gomunn Na Feinne Pipe Band, were placed at intervals among the Cadets, and thus simplified the rather difficult task of keeping a long column of fours in step. Having arrived at the Park, the companies were formed up in quarter column at the southern end of the football oval by Lieut.-Col. Garrard, O.C. the 69th Battalion, who was in charge of the parade. Five minutes were then allotted to each company for drill, and when that was over the companies were again formed up on the saluting base, and each marched past the Judge, Captain Coyle, of the head quarters' staff. The College and Geelong Grammar School companies both took part in the parade, but withdrew from the competition, as they were credited with having greater facilities for training than the town companies. At the conclusion of the movements the cadets were formed up in three sides of a square, and Lieut.-Col. Garrard announced that the Judge had given his decision to No. 1. Company Naval Reserve. Captain Coyle had also adjudicated between the College and the Grammar School Corps, and in giving his award in this case, he informed Captain Lamble and Lieut. Florance that he could only separate them with a mark or two in favour of the Grammar School Corps. The shield was then presented to the winning Naval Reserve Company by Councillor R. Williams, who congratulated them on their success.

Another interesting military function was the Senior Cadet Athletic Sports Meeting, which was held a week after the competition at the Kardinia Park. The meeting was very creditably managed by Cadet M. Thewlis, the Hon. Secretary, and the successful competitors included the following from the College Corps (G. Company):—

Long Jump (1896-7)	Col. Sergt L. Richardson,	16 ft. 11½ in.,	1
	Cadet Urbahns		2
100 yards (1898-9)	Final: Cadet E. Mackay		1
	Cadet E. Franklin		2
	Time	11 secs.

Cadet E. Mackay also won the 300 yds. Race, and Col.-Sergt. Richardson the 440 yards Race, and Cadet Webb ran second in the 100 yards (1896-7).

In all the above events the competitors started from scratch.

The Junior Cadets have, as usual, paraded each morning for physical drill, and on Thursdays in the afternoon for miniature rifle shooting. In both parts of their training they show a decided improvement. The drum and bugle band, under Mr. G. W. Irving's direction, has also been practising with great regularity, and their progress has given every satisfaction.

SHOOTING NOTES.

After several years in which our match shooting has been rather disappointing, we just missed winning the Sargood Shield this year, and, but for an unfortunate break-down of one man in the Cumming Cup Match our position would have been much higher in that event.

In the Sargood match our score equalled that of the Melbourne Grammar School, but the win was theirs owing to their having the best score at the longer range.

It has been a difficult matter, owing to the Competition of other sports, to get as much practice as we should have liked, and for some weeks the weather seemed to take a delight in changing for the worse on a shooting day, so that we frequently had to forego the practice at 500 yards. The effect was evident in both the Cumming Cup, and the Sargood matches, in each of which we led at the shorter, but could not hold the advantage at the second range.

The most consistent shot of the year is N. A. Longden, who again wins the Championship of the School. Besides shooting so well himself he has taken a great interest in the other members of the team, and much of their improvement is due to him.

This year will see the last of the " Figure " targets which have been used for several years in all the Schools' Matches. A majority of those interested in these matches decided in favour of a return to the Bulls-eyes, but this is surely a pity, in view of the fact, that the fine shooting in our matches on the admittedly more difficult figures compared very favourably with that done in senior competitions on bulls-eyes. Another objection to the change is, that unless conditions are altered in the Schools of the Empire match, it will most likely be dropped by Victorian Schools, as time is too short for practice on two different types of target.

Another change which will come into force in 1914 is the addition of two more ranges—300 and 600 yds. to the Public Schools' Championship match. This will increase the importance of this match, and will in addition, give a team which has done badly at one range, a better chance of recovery by good shooting at the three other ranges. Old Boys who were rifle shots will regret that Lieut.-Col. Garrard, who has done so much for the Rifle Shooting in the Schools, has been compelled, through pressure of other work, to retire from active work in connection with these matches.

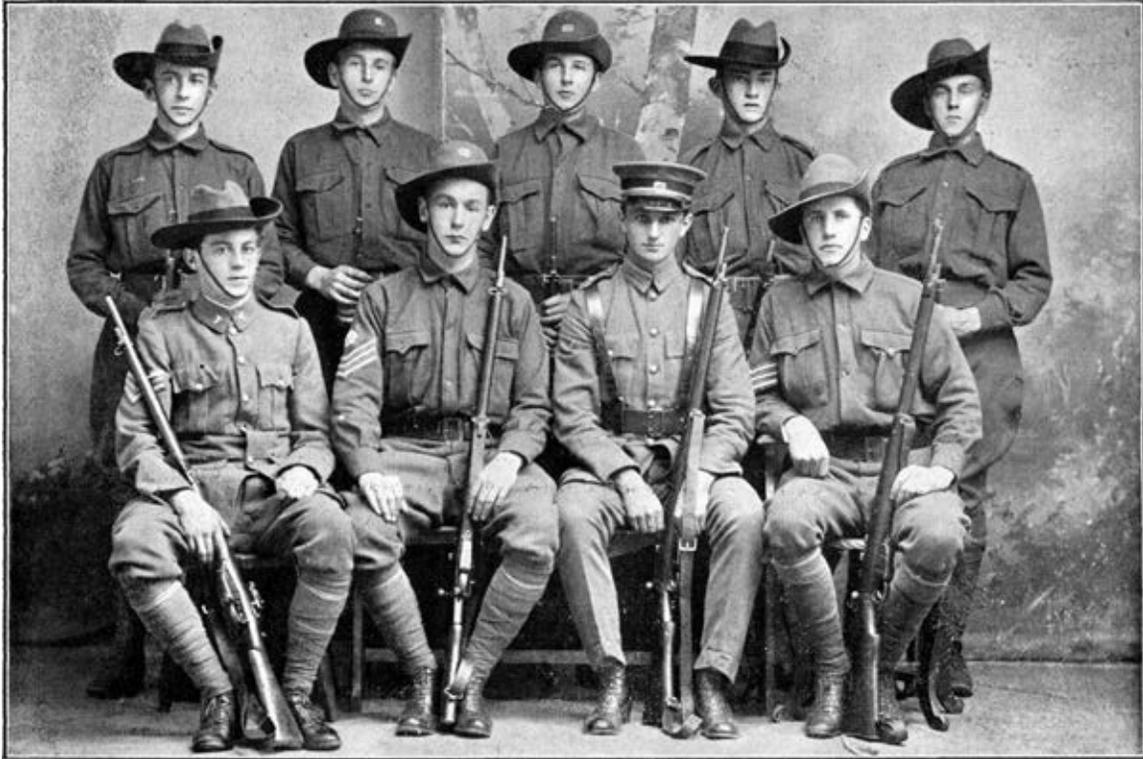

The following are the chief scores in the matches :—

Tennis.

IN this year's Tournament it was decided to add a new event, the handicap singles, to the programme. There was a large entry for both the Handicap Singles, and the Handicap Doubles, and the first few rounds of these were played off at the beginning of the term before the Combined Sports. It was decided to play all the finals off on some Saturday, but as a day could not be arranged, all the matches were played off at odd times, and semi-finals and finals took place after the Public Schools' cricket matches were over.

In the final of the Handicap Doubles, Longden and Campbell (— J 40) beat McKindlay, and McKindlay (4- J 30) after three long sets (0—6, 6—1, 6—2.)

In the final of the Handicap Singles, J. Hawkes (—^ 40) beat A. R. H. C. Urbahns (—J 15) easily (6—2, 6—2.)

Mrs. Hawkes again presented trophies for the Senior and Junior Championships. The Junior Championship was again won by J. Hawkes, who beat W. D. McKindlay easily in the final (10—2).

In the semi-finals for the Senior Championship, P. Campbell beat G. Mackay rather easily (10—2), and D. Fenton beat A. R. Urquhart (10—5). The final between Campbell & Fenton provided an interesting contest, and eventually resulted in a victory for Campbell, the scores being 6—4, 5—6, 6—2.

Welcome to Mr. Bayly.

(From the Geelong Times.)

AFTER an extended tour of the Continent and America, Mr. W. R. Bayly, the principal of the Geelong College, returned to Geelong on Friday, November 28th. He was met at the station by Mr. Price, the acting principal, and the members of the School Council and of the Old Collegians' Association.

At the Town Hall he was tendered a public welcome. The Mayor (Aid. E. G. Gurr) said he was pleased to join the Council and the Old Collegians' Association in welcoming the principal. They were pleased to see him looking so well, and no doubt the College would benefit as the result of his travels. If the College could be improved, they had as principal a man who could do it. The College had set a high example in education, and Mr. Bayly's appointment had met with the entire approval of the Council of the College and of the Old Collegians' Association. No doubt the College would get the experience of his knowledge obtained during travel in the old world. As Mayor of the city, he had pleasure in welcoming him back.

Cr. C. Shannon, president of the College Council, supported the welcome, and expressed the hope that Mr. Bayly had returned full of health and vigor. The school had been left in the capable hands of Mr. Price, and the principal would, on going to the College, realise that he had carried out the trust imposed in him.

Mr. Bayly, who was received with applause, said he hoped that as time went on his work would show that their kindness had not been without result. He appreciated the kindness of the welcome, not so much for himself, but for the school. It was a great compliment to the school. He had had a wonderful experience during his tour, and had been made aware of the fact that geographically Australia was isolated. This had its advantages as well as its disadvantages. Australians were prone to the weakness of feeling that Australia was the foreground, and in fact the whole of the picture. He could not help feeling that there were many people in England whose lives were lived in a way that they would not like to see in Australia. Still, England was a great place, and the other nations followed it in many ways. In Germany and Italy great advancement was being made, especially in art. Australians were appreciated as full of grit and capable of great things, at the same time they had the reputation of being a little cocksure. It was recognised that Australians were doing things worth doing, and were facing their problems bravely. When it was explained to them, people in the old land were in accord with Australia's system of compulsory training. In London, Glasgow, Edinburgh and other large centres of population, he saw types of people who seemed only half-types. If their physical manhood were developed it would be a great thing. It had been forced on him that Australians had cultivated an ugly twang. The English language was a beautiful one, but Australia was not maintaining it. The Americans had put an awful twang into the language, and he had placed Australians in England again and again by the peculiar twang. He was indebted to those at home for the universal kindness he had received. He had discussed education with those doing similar work as himself in other parts of the world, and had obtained impressions which would be of immense advantage to him in his future work. From his trip he felt satisfied that Australians knew their business, and that their ideals were high. Education was becoming increasingly costly, and Australia must work out its own educational system, and he felt that they could hold their own.

A vote of thanks to the Mayor was carried on the proposition of Mr. S. Calvert, secretary of the Old Collegians' Association.

Combined Public Schools' Sports.

THE ninth annual athletic sports meeting of the Victorian Public Schools was held on the Melbourne Cricket Ground on Friday, October 28th. The weather was perfect, and during the afternoon the greatest enthusiasm prevailed among the ten or twelve thousand spectators. The racing, as usual, was of a high degree of excellence, and several splendid individual efforts were registered. In each event (both open and under age), points are scored for the first five places, with the result that each position in the events is strenuously fought out, and unhappy is the boy who fails to add to the total of his school. Despite the fact that the track was by no means fast, three new records were established, and one other equalled. These new records are as follows :—

220 Yards Open—H. W. Neate, Xavier College, 23 sees.

300 Yards, Under 15—R. McMillan, Scotch College, 35 3 5th sees.

High Jump, Under 16—A. R. H. C. Urbahns, Geelong College, 5 feet 3½ inches.

A special train, leaving Geelong at 9.35 a.m., was chartered to convey the partisans of the two Geelong schools to Melbourne, and this was well patronised.

This year the competition for places in the College team was very keen, and the boys throughout attended very carefully to their training. Having arranged a preliminary team of representatives, several challenges were issued, trials arranged, and in some cases the challengers upheld their positions. This spirit of keen rivalry and interest has at times been lacking, to that the change was very welcome, and with it must come an improvement in our results.

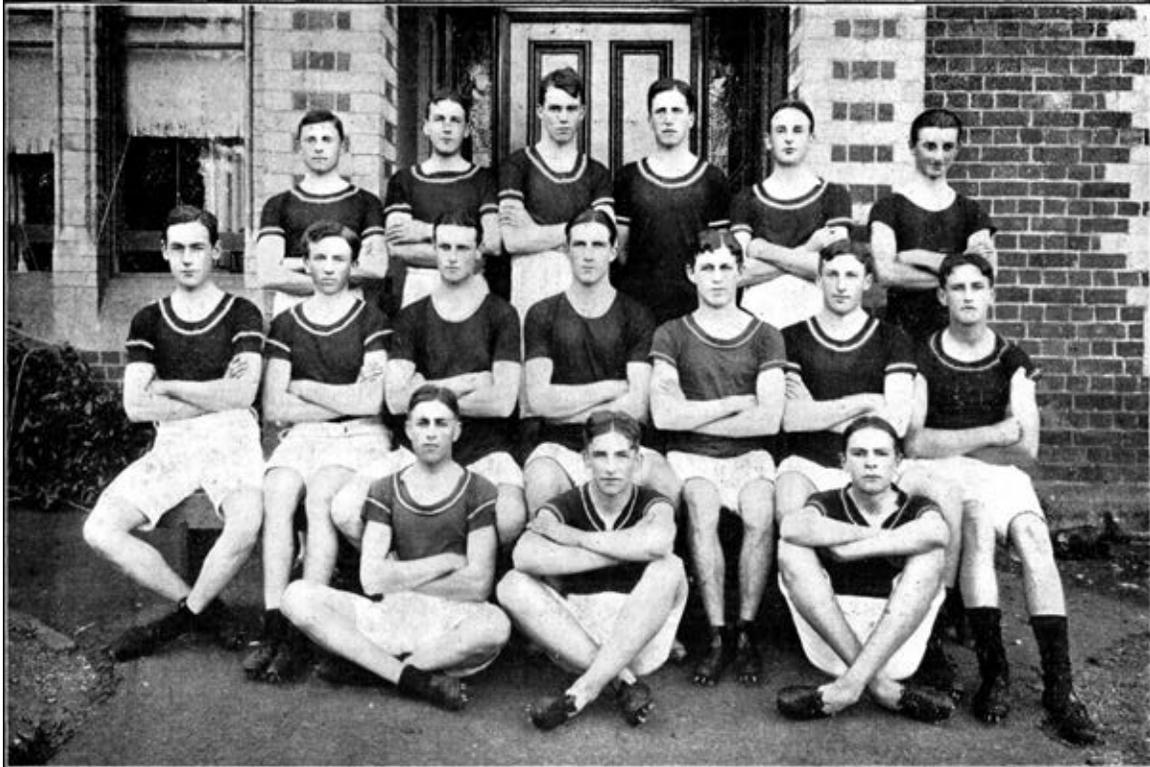

At the sports the boys ran well up to form, and our final total was several points more than we anticipated, and our team deserves high commendation for the manner in which they entered into the competition. R. N. Pillow, in the long distance open events, was our only competitor who was expected to make a strong impression, and he ran first in the mile and second in the half-mile. In the sprints we were decidedly weak by comparison, and did not score. E. E. Mackay and A. R. H. C. Urbahns were two good representatives for the Under 16 events, and they were expected to do well. Although our anticipations were not fully realised, Mackay ran well up with the fields, and Urbahns broke the record in the High Jump.

At the conclusion of the sports, His Excellency the Lieutenant-Governor, Sir John Madden, handed the Challenge Cup to the captain of the Scotch College team.

The full scores for the Challenge Cup and the results of the various events were as follows :—

Speech Day.

(From the "Geelong Times.")

THE Speech Day and distribution of prizes of the Geelong College took place in the Mechanics' Hall on Thursday, Dec. 18th, and as usual was very largely attended; the ladies being much in evidence. Mr. Chas. Shannon, president of the College Council, occupied the chair, and with him on the platform were the Revs. Wm. Borland, of Scots Church, J. A. Forrest, J. V. M'Nair, and A. Wheeler, Messrs. A. Greenwood (President of the Old Collegians' Association), S. Calvert, H. B. Gibb, W. Reid, and Dr. N. M'Arthur.

In opening the proceedings, Mr. C. Shannon said they had come to the end of the year, and they would hear from the Report a record of a very successful 12 months' work. He welcomed the Rev. W. Borland, of Scots Church, who had only recently come to Australia. It was particularly gratifying to see Mr. Greenwood present. That gentleman was one of the first Geelong Collegians, and in recognition of his long connection with the school he had been appointed President of the Old Geelong Collegians' Association.

ANNUAL REPORT.

In presenting to you the 53rd Annual Report of the Geelong College, I am pleased to be able to say that during the present year the number of boarders on the roll has reached a higher level than ever before attained, I believe, in the history of the College, while the number of day boys has also increased.

The chief feature of interest in our school life has been the absence of the Principal. We cordially welcome him back. Nothing, I think, can have assured him more clearly of the regard in which he is held by the boys than the fact that during his absence they have amply justified the confidence he placed in them.

Their application to study, their keenness in sport, and their general good conduct, must be as gratifying to him as it has been to me.

The three-term system inaugurated at the beginning of this year has met with approval on all sides. Not only has the change in date of the vacations proved acceptable, but the closing down of the school three times a year instead of four has permitted a longer sequence of teaching and of study, to the benefit of the school work.

The Norman Morrison Memorial Hall has now come into regular use in our school life. The basement provides senior and junior dressing rooms, an armoury, an additional class room, and a prefects' room, while the hall itself is used for morning assembly and for the meetings of the Debating and Dramatic Societies. Early in the year Mr. W. R. Jewell kindly presented us with a handsome clock, which has been hung in the hall. Our best thanks are due to him for his generous and useful gift.

It is with great regret that I record the death, during this term, of Mr. George Lupton, for many years teacher of Elocution in this school. Mr. Lupton's courtesy and geniality won him the friendship of all with whom he came in contact.

Since the date of the last report the following successes have been won :—

The Junior Public Examination was passed by O. B. Bennett, W. R. Burrows, A. W. Dean, J. R. H. Hobbs, W. L. Kincaid, A. E. Lee, A. S. Marshall, W. O. McPherson, A. Milne, A. Morris, J. K. Spalding, and A. R. H. C. Urbahns.

Special mention should be made of A. S. Marshall, who, passing in seven subjects, obtained distinction in six of them.

The Senior Public Examination was passed by D. W. Paine, R. N. Pillow, and J. D. Rogers. W. W. Leggatt obtained First-class Honours in History, W. R. Jewell Second-class in Physics and Chemistry, J. H. Campbell Second-class in Chemistry and Third-class in Physics, L. E. W. Roberts Second-class in Physics and Third-class in Chemistry, E. W. Opie Third-class in Physics and Chemistry.

J. D. Rogers, the Dux of the College for this year, won a Government Exhibition, and at the recent examinations for Entrance Scholarships at Ormond College was awarded a Major Scholarship in Physics and Chemistry. A. W. Dean has passed the examination for entrance to the Royal Military College.

A large number of our Old Boys are studying at the University, but owing to the lateness of the examinations only a few results are to hand. J. R. Porter and R. N. Matthews have completed the 3rd year of the M.B. course ; S. T. Appleford and K. McK. Doig the 4th year of the same course.

We are pleased to notice in the list of successful candidates at the recent Intermediate Examination for Accountants the names of four of our Old Boys. To encourage Commercial work, an Old Collegian, Mr. C. L. Andrews, has this year given a special prize for Accountancy, which has led to keen competition. Mr. A. L. Baird has also given a special prize for Physics. To them and to all those who have repeated their former gifts of prizes and of trophies we tender our hearty thanks.

In Athletic Sports our Old Boys have been holding their own at the University. Geelong College was well represented in the Ormond cricket and football teams, and an Old Collegian captained them both. In their boat we had three men, one of whom also rowed for the University. We congratulate them all on their success.

Among ourselves an endeavour has been made to extend the interest in games throughout the school, and to induce all boys, who are able, to take part in them. I have been pleased by the keenness shown in practice and by the consequent improvement in our teams. The football team deserve special commendation for their consistent training, and I heartily congratulate the shooting team on their excellent performance in the Sargood Shield match, in which they tied with the winners for first place, though they lost the match on the count back.

I have great pleasure in acknowledging my indebtedness to my colleagues for the ungrudging assistance they have given me. They have spared no pains to further the good of the school.

In conclusion, I desire to express my gratification with the conduct of the school during the past year. It has been plain to me that there was a general determination among the boys so to conduct themselves as to render my task as pleasant as possible. For this evidence of their good-will I return them my sincere thanks.

In supplementing the report, Mr. W. R. Bayly, Principal of the College, said his first note was one of gratitude to the staff for the way they had carried on the College during his absence. It had been a grave responsibility in leaving the College, but he recognised the strong force he was leaving behind; men who were loyal to the school. He had come back to find that his confidence was more than fully justified. It was pleasing when away to receive a note stating that the school was doing well, and it took away all anxiety. It was pleasing to find the cordial relations existing between the staff and the scholars, and he congratulated Mr. Price on the result. Mr. Bennett had joined the staff at the beginning of the year, and as time went on, had become a great influence in the school. It was with great regret that they were losing his services. He (Mr. Bayly) had not interfered with the school since he returned, so that he could congratulate the staff on the success achieved, There was a marked development in the school, especially in regard to personality. There was an influence at work which would be a fine thing. He thanked the members of the Council who had sent him home; the members of the staff, who had stepped into the breach; the boys who had helped them; the well-wishers; and lastly, the Mayor for his civic welcome, which was a great compliment to the College. He did not come back laden with statistics, but had many impressions which would make his status as a school master much greater than it was before. He did not think there was anywhere else a greater educational activity than existed in Great Britain. He came back with feelings that they in Australia, who had the responsibility of education, knew their business. They knew what they wanted, and their ideals were ahead of their powers, because education was becoming more costly. At one time anything would do for the school boy, but now nothing was too good for him. They were seeking right and left to expand their wings. He hoped that the efforts of their friends and rivals, the Grammar School, would be an inspiration to the whole Commonwealth. They had the best wishes of the College, and although a little further away, the links that bound them together would be all the stronger. He had seen a great deal of the behaviour of school boys abroad, and felt that the Australian schoolboy could hold himself up with pride that he was man born of the image of his Maker. In the classroom and on the playground he was a worthy representative of the finished type of public school boy.

The Rev. W. Borland said that he had come to see the boys, and was fresh from the experience of a similar gathering of the Scotch College, Melbourne. The boys of the Scotch College always barracked for the Geelong College, except when the two Colleges were playing against one another. It was good to be amongst so much young, vigorous, and hopeful life. Things looked different to boys than they did to people of middle age. Each of the terms probably seemed as long to the boys as did the whole year to the grown-up folk. Each one of the boys had a report within himself. He hoped they would all carry home, in addition to the school report, a report inside which gave them satisfaction. The prizes were only the outward test. He wanted them to remember that the school career was only part of the great affair of life. It was really only the second lap ; the first lap being the home life. Whether they had won a prize or not, they should have a feeling that they deserved one. The prize of life was the consciousness of knowing that they had put forward their best in the effort. It mattered not whether it was in the classroom or in sport. The third lap was the dignity of manhood well spent. When leaving school they should enter upon life like a stone dropped into the pool. They were all throwing stones into the pool, which was life in all its ramifications—the circles would go out from where the stone entered, to the very edge of the world, and the influence of their lives would be far beyond anything they had imagined in their school days. Before he even knew the name of this school he had been influenced by the school through two of its representatives, the Morrison brothers, who were in the Edinburgh University. They exercised a great individuality, and he was glad to know there was reverence for the honor of the school. They should remain loyal to the school on leaving by joining the Old Collegians' Association. He concluded his remarks by presenting the school prizes.

The chairman called on Mr. Greenwood to present the sports prizes. In a brief address the president of the Old Collegians' Association won his way to the hearts of the boys. He spoke in a jocular strain. He said that he became a scholar of the College in 1861, and in the year 1863 obtained third prize for Scripture. Then he broke the record by not getting another prize afterwards. If any mischief were done in Skene Street, Greenwood was at the bottom of it. Though he had not done well in taking the prizes, he had done his best in after life to uphold the record of the College. The aspiration of the boys should be that they would never in any way disgrace the College flag. In presenting the prizes, Mr. Greenwood had a word of praise to say to each recipient.

Dr. A. N. McArthur proposed a vote of thanks to the Rev. W. Borland and Mr. Greenwood. In seconding it, the Rev. A. Wheeler took occasion to congratulate the College on its success. He appreciated Mr. Bayly's references to the Grammar School. It was pleasing to have the College in his parish, and the relations between All Saints' Church and the College were very friendly.

The motion was carried with acclamation, and cheers were given by the boys for the chairman, the head master and the staff.

The gathering closed with Mr. Chas. Shannon wishing the boys and the teaching staff the compliments of the season, and expressing the hope that they would return to the College with renewed vigor.

Annual Athletic Sports.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 18TH.

MANY anxious misgivings vexed the minds of the Sports' Committee during the earlier days of the week, when a heavy fall of rain seemed certain. The advance of the high pressure zone across the continent was carefully noted from day to day, and by Friday the indications were highly favourable. Saturday, October 18th, dawned fresh and fair, and the afternoon was ideal for the Sports' gathering, the fiercer beams of the sun being tempered by a layer of light clouds. Under such pleasant conditions there was a very large gathering of spectators, and during the afternoon some excellent racing was witnessed.

This year a scheme of decoration for the Oval was carried out, flags and bunting streamers being suspended from poles erected all round the oval, so that when the gentle breeze was blowing, the appearance (enlivened by the music of the Orphanage Band and the bright dresses of the ladies) was truly effective and suggestive of a gala day. In the working out of the scheme of decoration, the Committee gratefully acknowledges the valuable assistance of Messrs. Purnell & Sons, who kindly supplied the poles and secured them in position.

The boys comprising the Committee of Management for this year proved to be a hard-working combination, and the many close contests indicated that the handicappers had given their work very careful consideration.

Recognising that Sports' Day of recent years had come to an abrupt termination with the close of the afternoon events, the Committee eagerly welcomed the happy suggestion that a performance of "What Happened to Jones," by the College Dramatic Club, should be given on the evening of Sports' Day, and the union of the two events proved in every way an admirable one.

In the preliminary preparations we were fortunate in having the services of Mr. R. Lambie and O W. K. Pearson as Joint Hon. Secretaries, and much of the success of the Sports and the splendid entries of Old Collegians were due to their excellent work. Friday, October 17th, was a busy day for the boys engaged in marking out the oval, and it is most pleasing to record the exactness of the work done. The work is checked several times, so that the measurements in all cases can be guaranteed to the inch, and "near enough" is now regarded as a long way out.

For a Sports' Meeting to be successful from a spectator's point of view, it is essential that each event is run strictly according to the pre-arranged timetable, and that there is no unnecessary waiting between the events. Last year the time was reduced by half an hour, and this year a further reduction was made, so that the last event was timed to finish half an hour earlier than has been the case. The satisfactory working out of the scheme depended upon the promptness of the boys in part and on the ability of the starter in particular, and once again must we acknowledge our indebtedness to Mr. James D'Helin, who during the afternoon effected excellent starts and kept the events well up to time. In many cases the times allowed between successive events was only three minutes, during which the large fields of competitors had to be checked on their marks, arranged in position, and sent on their way, and it is gratifying to record that the last event started at the exact time as given on the programme.

Another very pleasing feature of this year's sports was the greater interest evinced by the Old Collegians and the splendid fields contesting in the various Old Collegians' events. A special sub-committee of Old Collegians went into the handicaps as carefully as is possible, and spent the whole of one evening in making their awards. In the 440 yards event the handicaps on the whole were generous, and when announced the spirit of some of the Old Collegians on the distant marks was aroused, and one heard of various calculations (based no doubt on very short sprints) concerning the time required to run the small remaining distance.

During the afternoon telegrams were received from Rev. J. A. Forrest and Mr. W. A. Waugh. Dr. Kennedy was unavoidably called away, and could not assist as one of the judges. If there is one Old Collegian who enjoys our Sports' Meeting more than others, it is Mr. Waugh, and he is most pleased when the successful competitor hails from New South Wales.

The officials in control of the Sports and the results of the various events were as follows :—Committee of Management: Mr. C. A. Cameron, J. I. Birnie, A. A. W. Hooper, R. N. Pillow, W. J. Reid, C. M. Webb. Handicappers : J, I. Birnie, R. N. Pillow, W. J. Reid. Judges: Messrs. O. Albers, L. StG. Austin, S. B. Calvert, C. A. Cameron, J. Cameron, A. H. Harry, R. Lamble, Dr. Kennedy. Debating Society.

THE first meeting this term, the Literary evening, had unfortunately to be postponed owing to the clashing of several events.

On October 23rd an extraordinary meeting was held. Despite the absence of the Citizen Forces in Melbourne, in the service of their country, a very successful meeting was held. The subject postponed from August 9th, "That the building of a Federal Capital at Canberra is folly," was discussed. Many new speakers found the courage necessary to break the ice, perhaps because of the absence of many of the Seniors.

Very good speeches were made by Brodie, Stoker, Herman, and Campbell. As the Premier, Paine, was away Pearson did not lead the opposition. These positions were filled by Spalding and Davey, both of whom led very creditably for a first attempt. Mr. J. Cameron as arbiter gave his decision in favour of the opposition.

On October nth the question of changing the weekly holiday to Wednesday and Saturday afternoons, and making sport compulsory on the former was debated. Paine brought in the motion, and Reid opposed it, as Pearson arrived late for the meeting.

DECEMBER, 1913.

Some excellent speeches were made by Longden, Pearson, McKay, Fenton and others. The opposition had the weightier arguments in the opinion of Mr. J. Cameron, who, as usual, acted as chairman and arbiter. Fifteen members spoke, this record being a fitting close to a successful series of debates.

On November 1st the Annual Banquet was held. The Society was sound financially, and so a pleasant evening was spent. It speaks well for the constitutions of Geelong Collegians that 34 dozen cakes, and 16 dozen bottles of "fizz" among 60 members failed to keep any away from Church next day.

The Prizes for the most improved Senior and Junior speakers, donated by Mr. Calvert and Mr. J. Cameron, were won by J. S. Davey in the Senior Division, and R. N. Campbell in the Junior.

Altogether this year has been most successful. There was a record number of members, 74 (previous best 57), which shows the growing popularity of the Society. The success of this year is in a great measure due to the untiring interest of Mr. J. Cameron and Mr. S. Calvert, and the Society wishes to thank them for their generous help.

The Balance Sheet is also very satisfactory, for despite the inroads made in the funds by "the feed," there is a Credit Balance of £1 4/6 in the Bank.

The Dramatic Society.

"WHAT HAPPENED TO JONES."

THE College Dramatic Society claims to have justified its existence by the performances presented to crowded houses on Friday and Saturday, Oct. 17th and 18th.

" WHAT HAPPENED TO JONES."

Most of the actors were quite new to the stage, and naturally there were some shaky knees on the Friday evening, but the hearty encouragement and appreciation of the audience very soon changed that, and from the beginning things went with a swing, and the constant roars of laughter showed that the play had got the audience.

When Saturday night arrived there was no sign of nervousness whatever—indeed so confident were some of the cast that little impromptus were freely introduced, which added much to the general mirth. The mention of a certain "prize fight" proved highly amusing to the school, even if the general public found it puzzling.

With regard to the members of the cast much might be said, for every part was well played. The weight of the evening, both on and off the stage, was upon Mr. Irving, who, as "Jones," showed great versatility in changing from the hymn book drummer to the "cloth." His "love" scenes with Alvina were very funny, and caused great laughter. Professor and Mrs. Goodly (Pearson and Gunn) had that most difficult of tasks, the opening scene, and very well indeed they performed it. Opening a play is always difficult, and usually makes or mars a performance; but here, as throughout the play, Gunn made a typical fussy old lady, while Pearson completely lost his personality in that of Ebenezer Goodly. When he got excited it was no mere pretence—he really was excited over the iniquities of the ubiquitous Jones and the trials of his brother. Mr. Bennett, as the Bishop—wooden, unexcitable, bewildered amidst all his troubles—was a huge success, and his "I want to see my brother" was one of the hits of the evening.

P. S. Campbell, as Richard Heatherly, also performed a very difficult part excellently; while Snow, as the lunatic, was a success even before he opened his mouth. Hooper made an ideal policeman, while Fenton, who at the last moment took Halley's place, also played his part as asylum superintendent very well.

The "lady" members of the cast were equally successful. Dunlop, as "Cissy," made a great hit with his sporty manners and quiet naughtiness when Mrs. Goodly was absent.

Urquhart, as Marjorie, looked just charming, and her love passages with Richard were very lifelike.

Osburne, as Alvina, brought the house down. "Her" acting was just lovely, particularly when spooning with Jones, whilst her appearance—in a slashed skirt of yellow silk, purple stockings and huge earrings—was very funny. Sprigg took the part of Minerva, a blue stocking, very well; but probably the "hit" of the play was Latta, who, as Helma, the Swedish servant girl, caused roars of laughter. The part fitted him like a glove, and whenever a laugh was needed the feather duster and dirty face were there to produce it.

After the Saturday performance Mr. Greenwood, President of the Old Boys, mounted the platform, and, in proposing a vote of thanks, he heartily congratulated Mr. Irving on the excellence of the performance, and referred to the large amount of work required to successfully coach the members of the cast to the standard they had reached.

The vote was very heartily carried, and in a few words Mr. Irving responded on behalf of the Society.

The Dramatic Club should now become an integral part of our school life.

The Ormond Letter.

THIS term has gone all too quickly, and during the last month youths may be seen with pale faces and muttering lips tramping the well-worn paths of the cow paddock. The College seems strangely desolate, and the chief occupants of the "Common Room" have dwindled to a few 2nd and 3rd Year Meds. The shadow of the examinations has cast a dark pall over the Billiard Room. The familiar cries from the Tennis court have ceased, for the "sound of the grinding is low."

The two Inter-Collegiate events this term were the Shooting and the Tennis. The shooting fell after a sharp struggle to Queen's, with Trinity second, and Ormond a close third. It was bad luck that the team did not do better, as they had been practising hard.

J. H. Urbahns represented the College in this event. J. Urbahns has done very well this year, as this is the second event in which he has represented the College.

Trinity easily won the Tennis, beating first Ormond and then Queen's. Ormond, however, is again in possession of the rubber, and we look forward to having a good try for it again next year.

All the "Old Boys" at Ormond feel proud of the exhibition the College put up at the "Combined Sports." A. Urbahns has succeeded in gaining another record for the College.

We hear that there are a few fellows coming up to Ormond next year, and will be pleased to welcome them among us.

Your vacation will soon be here, and we wish you a very enjoyable holiday and a successful year next year.

University Notes.

THIRD term draws slowly to its conclusion along the rough way of Stew Vac. and examinations.

There are more people in the library now-a-days, fewer in the club house or on the tennis court ; and lights shine in College windows till early morning ; and people take to reading old exam, papers, and are stricken with terror thereby ; and try the experiment of sitting up all night to make up for lost time. So there are headaches and bad tempers about, while certain medicals, whose exams, come about once every year-and-three-quarters, are offensively gay, and give boisterous supper parties at late hours.

There has been little to record in the way of University Sport this term. Football ran to its inglorious conclusion, but with the coming of cricket better things began to arrive, and University should be very near the top of the list. They have so far been beaten once only—after a close finish with the strong East Melbourne team. Against Richmond they "declared closed" with five wickets down for 473. Park made 209, and K. M. Doig 81 in this match.

In Tennis the " Shop " four came with a late run, and got into the finals at the eleventh hour, only to succumb to M.C.C. As some small compensation University won the " A " Grade Hockey Premiership and the Inter-Varsity Lacrosse Shield. But all these petty triumphs were, in the eyes of rowing men, swallowed up in the horrible debacle at Henley.

Five strong crews (on paper at any rate) were entered. The Senior Eight included two international oars—Fraser and Ross-Soden. The other boats were all thought likely to do well, yet every crew was beaten outright in its heat. None got beyond the first round. The reason ? That is what everyone has been looking for since. The suggestions both as to cause and remedy are innumerable.

The College was as usual strongly represented in the M.U.B.C. crews. J. R. Cochrane and N. L. Campbell rowed in one Maiden Eight, P. McCallum and W. W. Leggatt in the other, while N. R. Mathews and J. R. Porter were in the Junior Eight.

The two last named were more fortunate in the Wilson Hall than on the River, both passing triumphantly in the recent Third Year Medicine exams., where P. B. Sewell was also successful. K. M. Doig at the same time passed his Fourth Year with honours in Pathology.

It will interest Collegians to hear that the M.U.B.C. shed was recently presented with a handsome photograph of the late Dr. A. D. Kearney, whose prowess in many sports, particularly tennis, is well remembered by Old Collegians. The donor was Mr. C. S. Galbraith.

Except for cricket, Henley is the end of athletics for the year. After it comes work for students and motor-biking for medicals. The last-named affliction has assumed great dimensions towards the end of this year. At one College five new cases are reported since August, and the peculiar language of the sufferers is heard at all hours—particularly at meals.

But the end of the year draws on. We must back to our toil, for the yearly battle with the Profs, is at hand for us—as also for some of you

" Good luck to those who see the end
 Good-bye to those who drown
 For each his chance as chance may send,
 And God for all! Shut down ! "

And we will.

A Stay in the Grampians.

LAST Xmas a party of us determined to spend the last few days of our vacation in the Grampians. The drag arrived about 6.30 a.m., and we started in good spirits.

The trip up to the Mountains was very pleasant, and the scent from the trees hung in the air as we wound our way through the bush. Once we took the wrong turning, but we soon found the error by coming to a dead end. We arrived at our camping place, having covered the 35 miles in 3.45 hours. We erected our tents in a very short time, but we took the precaution to cover each tent with a fly to keep out the rain, which falls very heavily there. As the time was late we stayed near the camp and fished. We succeeded in catching enough fish for our tea and next morning's breakfast.

Our camping place was situated in a hollow, encircled by the mountains. The next morning we visited the Wartook Reservoir. The reservoir is a very large dam and supplies the Town of Horsham with water. The supply is carried there by a gravitation scheme, and the water is very clear. We carried our lunch with us, and after thoroughly enjoying the meal we set out for the ninety feet Falls. The falls are very beautiful, and the spray rises about twenty feet in the air. At night we returned to the camp and went to bed about 9.30 p.m. after having told most of our school yarns.

We got up about 5.30 a.m., and spent the day in fishing and shooting. After having spent half an hour of good fishing, one member must have become too excited, and consequently took his second morning bath—this time with his clothes on. It was hinted that someone gave him a help in, but the general idea was that he became too excited. The worst part of all was that the bather seemed to think that one of the prominent members had done it.

THE SECOND GENERATION.

That night many wondered how the tent of the prominent member came down with a bump, waking him from the pleasant dreams of one who is about to return to school from a vacation. Luckily for the bather the day was warm, and with the help of a fire his clothes were soon dried. At this time the cow-bell summoned us to dinner. After dinner we noticed that two of the members had disappeared with their guns, but a short time afterwards they appeared again, carrying a few rabbits. It was decided to have them for tea, and after an hour's argument it was planned that they should be cooked in the frying pan. Probably the cooking was not up to the standard that night, for most of us seemed to avoid the final course. We then gathered enough wood to keep the fire going all night, and then we sat round whilst the yarns were completed, and then went to sleep. We did not sleep for long, as one member persisted in snoring until he received a billy of water, which he did not seem to like.

After our morning swim we had breakfast, and as it was our last morning there we started to fish. Two of us got a trout at about the same time, but after that we had to satisfy ourselves with perch and blackfish. That morning our drag came and we packed up and went home, having thoroughly enjoyed our stay in the mountains.

VA. Essay on Courage 1911.

Courage is the name given to an action or actions by which the life of him who performs or shows it through the great difficulties is hanging by a single thread between the jaws of death and the halo of light. He is standing on the narrow margin of the two great stages of mankind, also between this life and eternity. Many a brave deed has been done, but alas on returning with his precious jewel the accomplisher meets his great gain and perhaps shares the fate of him comrade in death or be maimed for life. But others amid the stinging sheets of lead ; fearful wrecks at sea ; great collisions and fires have so miraculously escaped from death, and returned with what their courage have given them, a life, to share it with him at the stake over the border, respected and honored.

But a schoolboy or any other lad in our land has not these chances, but can he not show courage by fighting the bully in him for wrong with the right. Courage has been nobly performed by many such as the fight of the " revenge." Torquay and Surroundings.

I SUPPOSE nearly everybody has visited Torquay some time or other. If you have not I shall endeavour to tell you a little about it.

One Saturday morning a party of us cycled down there, a distance of about thirteen miles from Geelong. We left the College at 8 o'Clock, and arrived there at 9 a.m. or perhaps a little after. We at once set to work and had our breakfast on the cliff, commonly known to the inhabitants of Torquay as "Beach Grove." The number of visitors that promenaded the cliff and beach at that time of the year was remarkable, considering that it was during the month of September, and that as a rule people do not take to the seaside during the winter months. But Torquay of course is an exception to the rule, as the people from Ballarat and Geelong often go down there on a Friday evening and spend a week-end in their seaside cottage.

After having breakfast we went for a walk along the beach to " Half-Moon Bay," a pretty little spot about three miles distant from the bathing beach. We collected quite a number of shells, including several "kauries," which we kindly gave to someone who happened to be passing that way. There are beautiful caves along the beach, and one may go into them for about fifty yards. Before leaving here we noticed that Torquay as well as a seaside resort was a very pretty little fishing village. Small schooners and fishing smacks were anchored in the bay, and a good many of the people about there seemed to earn their living by fishing. A few Geelong gentlemen were fishing on the rocks, and by what we saw in their bag they seemed to be having plenty of luck.

We came back from our walk around Point Danger, and to our great surprise we found the bathing beach full of people swimming. We could not stand watching them swim about, so as it was a beautiful day, and as we had plenty of time, we decided to go in for a swim ourselves, so we went to the public bathing box and togged. The water was rather sharp at first, but for all that we thoroughly enjoyed it.

We were also surprised to see the number of bathing boxes. We counted no less than sixty-nine, which is a great many for such a small place. The beach is looked upon as one of the best bathing beaches in Australia, as it is supposed to be free from sharks, for there is a reef running from Point Danger over to the Sand-hills, which stops the large sharks from coming in. After our bathe we dressed ourselves and sat on a part of the wreck of the "Scammell," talking about what we should do in the afternoon. The "Scammell" was wrecked some thirty or forty years ago. By some means or other it made a mistake in a heavy fog, and took the two points at Torquay for the "Heads." The consequence was that it was wrecked on Point Danger.

After having our lunch we decided to cycle to Jan Juc, a pretty little village about three miles from Torquay, and then go from there by the Jan Juc road to Geelong, a distance of sixteen miles, but an exceptionally good road. We made a start at 1 o'clock, and arrived there a little after half-past one.

The first thing we did was to visit the orchards, which we well patronised. Jan Juc has a good fruit-growing industry; thousands of cases are carted away during the fruit season every year, and are sent to all parts of Australia. It is a very picturesque little village, having been built in a hollow of a large valley, and being completely surrounded by hills on every side. Some of the inhabitants go in for bee farming by what we saw, for nearly every little cottage had its own bunch of hives. The land there is very rich, and some very fine crops of wheat and maize have been turned out. What struck me most about the township itself was that it was so picturesque. It has a small fresh water stream running through it, and this is looked upon by the people of the village to be a very favourable fishing spot.

It happened that the day we visited Jan Juc they held their Annual Sports Meeting, and there must have been between eight and nine hundred people witnessing it. The high jump (open) was easily won, being a record for their sports. In the hundred yards another record was broken, and this race was won in fine style. A large gathering of people came out in drags from Geelong, and were returning to the City the same time as we were, so the road was very cramped. They told us that they had a record attendance that day, so that was not so bad. We were feeling a little frightened (?) when we heard that Bream Creek was flooded after the recent rains, and was running over the bridge which we had to pass on our return journey, so before starting we enquired, and made sure before we started to return that it would be quite safe to go by that road. Some said we would not be able to get through, and others said it was possible, but we might have to chance a ducking. Anyway we chanced it, and we left at 7 o'Clock to return to College. We had only gone four miles along the road when we sighted a large sheet of water in front of us ; of course we knew what this meant ; it was nearly fifty yards long, but as we approached it we saw that it was not so deep as we had thought it was. However we did not have much trouble in getting through, as it was only up to our axles at the deepest part.

After that we continued our journey, and had a very pleasant ride in. We arrived at the College at 9 o'Clock, and having a shower we talked over a few reminiscences with much pleasure, and it could be plainly seen that we all thoroughly enjoyed our very pleasant day at Torquay.

New Hebrides.

THE New Hebrides is a group of islands about 1000 miles from Sydney. Many people visit them between the months of April and October. More would visit them if the steamers, one of them at least, were better fitted up.

After leaving Sydney we reached Lord Howe Island after 3 days' steaming. From Lord Howe the steamer takes us to Norfolk Island, where she lies at anchor for a few hours while the passengers go ashore for a drive, weather permitting ; after which they gather strawberries to bring back to the steamer.

A week after leaving Norfolk Island the steamer arrives at Vila, the capital of the New Hebrides. Vila is situated on a very pretty bay, with a small island in the centre. The hospital and Commissioner's quarters are on the island, as it is quieter than the mainland. When the cargo and mails have been sent ashore and fresh mails and stores taken for some other island, the steamer then weighs anchor and steams north, then south to the different islands in turn. As the steamer stays for some hours at each island the passengers go ashore and visit the missionaries, who take them round and show them places of interest, very often of a volcanic nature. People who take an interest in shell collecting have some very good opportunities of securing specimens.

On most of the islands the people are very fond of the water, and spend most of their time bathing, and fishing in canoes made from burnt out tree trunks. It is very interesting to visit a native village and watch them prepare a feast and carry pigs. The pigs are tied up by their four legs to a pole carried by two men. The " puddings " are prepared by the women, who put them between layers of red hot stones and leave them for a time to bake. Another very interesting scene is a native Christmas gathering at the mission station. They come from nearly every part of the islands, heathens as well.

After the Christmas service which is always held, the natives have games and races; the men go in for the obstacle race as if it was a " 440," and bring everything down on top of themselves. The tug-o'-war is entered into with great zest : the men against
