A PROBLEM which will, in the near future, concern the schoolboy of to-day, is that of the proper conception of Patriotism. The present rather narrow view must be widened, for narrow patriotism is not enough. In itself it does no harm, unless it is regarded as sufficient and perfect, and not to be extended in any circumstances.

One can be intensely loyal to a small section of a community, and yet worthily serve the whole, if he is prepared to realize that he must not battle for sectional advantages which would weaken the whole.

This is exemplified in school life by the House system. The school is divided into sections to focus more intensely the loyalty of the individual. The houses mutually improve each other, thereby raising the general standard of welfare of the whole school, and the house to be commended is not necessarily that which is supreme in work and play, but the one which by its efforts has, whether defeated or not, done most good to the school. The individual boy who strives rightly to advance his own house displays loyalty to his school. We have an illustration of this in the great improvement of the Cadet Corps since its division into houses.

In any game, the first thing to learn is that the team comes before the individual. A boy with the right spirit would never think of improving his own average in a cricket match, if by doing so he jeopardised the team's chance of victory.

Australia is an individual—and not the most important—in the team of the world, and should not try to benefit itself at the expense of general world progress. Trade barriers which result in lowering world efficiency should be removed.

With increasing means of communications, different nations are mixing more together, and beginning to see each other's point of view. Naturally then, they must realize that loyalty to the human race should come before loyalty to any country. The trend of public thought in this direction, though hastened by the last war, is still very slow; it is the duty of every schoolboy to-day to hasten it before disaster overtakes the world, in the form of another war. The nations are still so distrustful of each other that millions of pounds are at present spent annually on armaments in Europe. If each nation could be taught to submerge its own selfish ambitions for the sake of the team, some progress might be made towards peace.

A man should love his country, and love it very much. But, as in school life, he always puts the school before the house, and the team before himself, so he should be careful not to allow this love to exceed his love for mankind.

School Items.

In April, Mr. Rolland left for a holiday to Europe and Britain, via Palestine and Syria. We have since heard that he has arrived safely in England, and hope that he has enjoyed his experiences. We look forward to hearing what he will tell us on his return.

Mr. L. J. Campbell, Headmaster of the Preparatory School, has been in indifferent health for some time. His devotion to his work made him reluctant to take the necessary rest. However, he is at last undergoing treatment which we hope will result in his complete restoration to health. Meantime, his place is filled by Mr. G. Carroll, who joined us shortly after Mr. Rolland's departure, and who, we hope, finds his stay a happy one.

The new buildings are now well forward. Externally, they are practically complete, and it is now possible to see the southern wing as a finished whole, and to appreciate the beauty of the cloisters. In a few days some of the new classrooms should be in use.

The appearance of the Preparatory School has been much enhanced by the erection of fine iron gates, presented by J. G. Simpson, a present pupil. Their elegant lines and massive brickwork have been greatly admired; and we would thank the donor most heartily for so beautifying the College.

There was an unfamiliar look about the school grounds when we returned after the May vacation. The trees running north and east from the corner of the paddock near Warrinn had been cut down, and we are trying to make the thought of ultimate improvement console us for the loss of these well-loved friends.

The new boys who came at the beginning of the year have proved to be worthy Collegians. They are settling down very well, and taking a very active part in all sides of our corporate life.

No one had any illusions that our cricket team was composed of champions; in fact, to be candid, its prospects were viewed with pessimism. We are all the prouder to have to record that it performed very well, and always did better than its best; even after a crushing defeat in the first match.

The following have been awarded School Colours:—Rowing—J. S. Hutton, K. N. Morris, D. W. Matheson, J. B. Ferguson, N. R. Funston, J. A. Thomas, L. Wills; Cricket—S. S. Blair, G. A. C. Milne, J. L. Legge, H. C. C. Steele, J. J. Munday.

House Colours have been awarded to the following:—

Warrinn:—Cricket—R. J. Scott; Swimming—A. L. Lucas, J. N. Sloane, C. N. Sloane; A. H. M. Storrer; Tennis—J. Calhoun, H. D. Moodie, O. S. Shave. Athletics—J. G. Simpson.

Morrison:—Swimming—L. Batten; Tennis—S. S. Blair, E. J. Smart, R. G. Marshall, W. McGregor.

Calvert:—Swimming—J. L. Macalister, H. Moreton; Cricket—K. W. Teasdale, N. R. Calvert, H. C. Steele, J. L. Legge; Tennis—K. W. Teasdale, N. R. Calvert, J. M. Lang.

Shannon:—Swimming—J. A. Thomas, G. D. Murray; Cricket, F. C. D. Reid, J. G. Johnstone; Tennis—J. S. Hutton, J. G. Johnstone.

On 21st March, Geoff. Shannon died after a sudden brief illness. We miss him greatly, and share the sorrow of his family, than which none has identified itself more closely with all that is memorable in College history. It seems incredible that there is now no Shannon on the College roll.

The Dr. George Morrison Portrait,

THE afternoon of Friday, 13th March, is likely to be a pleasant memory for us all. The school assembled in the Norman Morrison Hall, and was joined by many friends who share its pride in the past history of the College. By a fortunate circumstance there was an almost complete muster of the surviving members of the Morrison family.

When Sir John MacFarland, introduced by Mr. S. B. Hamilton Calvert, told us of his friendship with our first principal, Dr. George Morrison, we felt that we were actively concerned with the early days of the College, and that we had personal acquaintance with one who would otherwise have been but a historical figure. This feeling was enhanced when, after Mrs. H. B. Higgins, a daughter of Dr. Morrison, unveiled his portrait, we looked with affection and pleasure on his features limned by Sir John Longstaff.

As Sir John MacFarland told us, Dr. Morrison was a born schoolmaster, five of the family to which he belonged adopted the profession. His birthplace was in Morayshire, in 1830, and he attended Aberdeen University. Coming to Australia in 1858, he was first a master at Scotch College, Melbourne, and was shortly after appointed Headmaster of the National School in Geelong. In 1861 he was invited by a committee of the Presbyterian Church of Victoria to undertake the Principalship of Geelong College. It was not long before this man of determined mind and far vision had acquired the land on which the College now stands, and founded the College as we know it, remaining in charge until 1898, when he was succeeded by his son, Norman Morrison.

Dr. Morrison's philosophy, as a schoolmaster, was of the old-fashioned type. A boy came to school to learn primarily to obey and to perform thoroughly his daily task, even if he did find it uncongenial. He must learn to be manly and truthful, and he was expected to take an active part in school games and a deep interest in religion.

Sir John thanked Mrs. Higgins for her gift of the portrait which, besides commemorating her father, is really an interesting and valuable work of art, and although painted from old photographs, is a very good likeness.

After Mrs. Higgins had unveiled the portrait and asked the Chairman of the School Council to accept the gift, Mr. Hamilton Calvert replied, expressing our gratitude and pleasure. Mr. Rolland followed, and paid a great tribute to Dr. Morrison when he said that though he had never met him he knew him better than many personal acquaintances, for he had so impressed his personality upon his contemporaries.

Preparatory School Notes.

DURING the first term the Cricket Championship was decided, and won by Bellerophon.

A cross-country run was also held on a cold afternoon, and again Bellerophon boys proved the victors.

Boys are now training hard for the football season, and look forward to some keen contests.

The entrance to the Prep. School has recently been made much more attractive by some very fine gates, which have been presented by J. G. Simpson.

In the Hobby Room, under the guidance of Mr. Anderson, the boys have been busy at at poker-work and metal-work, as well as carpentering.

Mr. Campbell is away at present, and Mr. Carroll is taking his place.

We miss from our ranks the cheery presence of Geoff Shannon, whose sudden death occurred during the term. He had been at the Preparatory School since he started some years ago, and was well known to us all.

New boys we welcome are—W. West Lau, D. J. and B. Roydhouse, R, Cooke, P. Joss, H. Pillow, H. Lade.

Cadet Corps.

WITH the development of the House-platoon system, there has been a distinct improvement in the appearance and work of the Corps on parade. Reports from platoon commanders also indicate that cadets are taking a genuine interest in the more technical side of the work.

The building improvements being carried on have made it necessary for us to vacate our old quarters under the Morrison Hall, and now the Armoury is situated in the wooden buildings on the other side of the paddock.

To provide equipment for the greatly increased numbers of the Corps, we have received a further issue of twenty rifles and belts from Ordnance.

We are to congratulate C.S.M. J. B. Ferguson, Sgts. J. A. MacLeod and L. O. Morgan on their passing satisfactorily the exam, for Commissioned Officers, with their subsequent promotion to the rank of Cadet Lieutenant.

The following is the official list of promotions:—

To be Lieutenants—C.S.M. J. B. Ferguson, Sgt. J. A. MacLeod, Sgt. L. O. Morgan.

To be C.S.M.—Cpl. C. J. Cooke.

To be C.Q.M.S.—Cpl. J Fairley.

To be Sergeants—Cpl. W. P. Carr, L./Cpl. J. L. Legge, Cpl. K. N. Morris, L./Cpl. J. W. Legge.

To be Corporals—G. O. Cole, O. S. Shave, R. E. Radcliffe, J. G. Simpson, J. S. Hutton, A. E. Piper, J. A. Gerrard, R. I. Rankin, N. J. Funston, F. H. Davidson.

THE PEGASUS.

Debating and Literary Society.

THE first general meeting for 1934 was held on 6th June, when the election of office-bearers took place. The splendid attendance of members indicated that the Society's prospects for another successful year are very good indeed. The number of members enrolled so far exceeds all previous years, and we are pleased to see that more day-boys are becoming interested in the Society.

On Saturday evening, 9th June, two interesting debates were held on the subjects—"Is Australia treating her aborigines as she should?" and "Is the Victorian Government justified in maintaining its railways by restricting road transport?" Several hotly contested one-man debates were held on the evening of 16th June, and many good speeches were made from the floor. Junior House had their own meeting, and some very good speeches were heard in the course of the debates. Our junior members are, as usual, very enthusiastic, and never at a loss for some subject of general interest to debate.

The Society intends to arrange several inter-school debates this year, and to give as many members as possible the experience of speaking in one of these, as our object is not to produce the best debating team in the Public Schools, but to enable all members to become efficient speakers. Novices can only achieve this by attending senior debates and listening to more experienced speakers, and speaking frequently from the floor.

Library Notes.

EARLY in the year the librarians were very busy adding new books and re-cataloguing the whole fiction library. A new system of entering the names of books read, enables the degree of a book's popularity to be readily determined, and thus solves the difficulty of deciding which books are to be displaced by new ones at the beginning of each term. The names of the authors have been printed on the covers of all books, and the covers have also been lacquered, thus enabling the books to stand wear better,

JUNE 1934.

The magazines and pictorials in the reading-room are as popular as ever, and although there are fewer English magazines this year owing to their high prices, we have numerous excellent American publications. The two armchairs which have been added to the readingroom are much appreciated by habitués. They are a practical means of strengthening the desire to read good literature on the part of those who are not very keen on reading.

We wish to express our appreciation to all donors of books and magazines who have enabled us to continue to increase the popularity of the magazine and fiction library.

The Science Club.

ALTHOUGH few boys in the senior school attended the meetings of the Science Club this term, those who did so were well rewarded by a most interesting series of meetings.

On 4th March, Mr. Henderson and three ardent members bicycled to the Dog Rocks under most trying circumstances. It was intended to meet the Melbourne Naturalists' Society, but unfortunately two punctures necessitated a rather brief study of geology and ornithology. However, the local geography of the members present was considerably improved in quite an interesting cross-country hike.

On 10th March, Mr. Dod, who has had wide experience as a mining engineer in many parts of the world, made our hearts glow with the romance of his profession, and his talk led to a fertile discussion on the possibilities of profitable oil production in Australia,

Mr. Hope, one evening, gave a lecture on rocks of volcanic origin. The lecture was illustrated by actual specimens which lent colour to an illuminating talk.

Two members of the Club delivered lectures to the Society. J. Fairley lectured on the "Amoeba," and J. AY. Legge on "Foods and their Assimilation." Both lectures proved most instructive, much time having been devoted to their preparation.

THE PEGASUS,

The evening of 28th March was spent at the Geelong Post Office. We were shown the mail delivery and telegraph departments, and then shown over the automatic telephone exchange. Our guides explained all the various apparatus in detail, where possible exposing the mechanism for our inspection. The battery-rooms were also visited, and a few minutes spent in the trunk line room, where manual switchboards are in use. Our thanks are due to the guides who helped us to a fuller knowledge of our marvellous telephone system.

One evening was devoted to the life of Pasteur. The biography of this famous scientist was read from an enthralling book entitled "Microbe Hunters."

Dr. Pillow, in his witty style, told us of the Belgian Congo, where he spent some years in engineering pursuits. Such mystic places as Zimbabwe were mentioned, and stories of African life told in a most entertaining manner. The evening finished with the screening of several lantern slides illustrating interesting places, animals, and people of the Congo.

The Club wishes to thank all those who have helped in any way to further its interests.

Our New Boat.

AN unusual ceremony was performed on the 28th of March on the bank of the Barwon, a ceremony rarely seen in connection with the College. A large number of friends augmented the throng of boys on the occasion of the christening of our new Racing Eight, an event to gladden the heart of any oarsman.

Mr. Hamilton Calvert, in introducing Mr. McArthur, reminded us of that family's connection with the school, and recalled the early days of the Boat Club, pointing out that a new boat shed had recently been built in anticipation of such an event as the present one.

Mr. McArthur referred in eulogious terms to the late Norman Morrison, expressing the hope that College crews would row to many victories in their new boat, with the spirit of Norman Morrison, who had always held the school above all other things. The two anonymous donors, he thanked sincerely for their generous gift,

JUNE 1934.

A silken banner, bearing the Pegasus, lay across the bows until removed by Mrs. Gaunt (a sister of the late Norman Morrison), when the shining silk and polished wood bearing the legend "NORMAN MORRISON II." in glittering gold was revealed. The crew stood around the bows as Mrs. Gaunt, with a few appropriate words and a bottle of champagne of the 1871 vintage, christened the "Norman Morrison II."

Mr. Rolland thanked Mrs. Gaunt, and accepted the boat on behalf of the College, thanking the donors and welcoming such an addition to the gifts to the school.

The stroke of the crew (G. C. McKenzie) then expressed the gratification of the rowers on receiving such a fine addition to their fleet, and gave a brief outline of the needs of the Boat Club in this respect. "All further contributions thankfully received" seems an exact epitome of his sentiments. He then called for three cheers, which were freely given and prolonged as the boat was carried to its place in the sheds.

Cricket Notes.

WITH only four members of last year's team back, it was thought that our First XI. would be too inexperienced to meet with much success. However, after being soundly beaten by Wesley, the team improved with every match, and very nearly won their remaining four games, winning two and being defeated by narrow margins in the other two.

Wesley again proved its superiority over the other teams, and for the second consecutive season was undefeated.

Premiership points:—

Scotch College, 8 points }
Xavier College, 0 points.....	6

Early in the year A. E. Piper was elected captain, and G. A. C. Milne vice-captain, Mr. Profitt again being coach.

The College's success in the latter part of the season was due to their evenness as a team., no player being outstanding in all matches, but several doing well at different times. Milne scored the only century,—a fine performance against Melbourne Grammar School—while Milne, Munday and Gaunt were each successful in taking five wickets in an innings.

GEELONG COLLEGE v. WESLEY COLLEGE.

The team for this match, played at Wesley on 2nd and 3rd March, was as follows:—A. E. Piper (captain), G. A. C. Milne (vice-captain), H. C. C. Steele, J. L. Legge, S. S. Blair, J. Munday, N. R. Calvert, K. E. Busbridge, D. C. Gaunt, F. C. D. Reid, O. S. Shave, A. H. M. Storrer (12th man).

Friday was a perfect day for cricket, and the College had the first success when Piper won the toss and decided to bat on a good wicket.

Piper and Steele opened the innings to the bowling of Scott and Evans. Piper was soon out, bowled by a good ball from Evans, and shortly afterwards Steele was foolishly run out. Milne followed with the two opening batsmen out for only 18 runs. He stayed for half an hour, and helped Blair to add 30 runs for the third wicket. With Milne's dismissal, a rot set in, and the innings soon ended for 78 made in a little over two hours. Blair, who made 38 out of the 53 runs scored while he was at the wickets, was the only batsman to show any confidence against the bowling. Of the later batsmen, Busbridge kept an end up for half an hour, and Shave batted nicely for 10 not out. The fast bowlers, Scott and Evans, did the damage, getting seven wickets between them, and they were backed up by excellent fielding.

The Wesley innings began just before lunch. Busbridge was unable to field because of an injury to the wrist received when batting, and Storrer fielded as substitute. Williams and Thompson opened to the bowling of Milne and Gaunt, and in the few overs before lunch the bowlers were on top, Milne having Williams in trouble. After lunch, however, the batsmen definitely proved their superiority, and, scoring at the rate of two runs a minute, the College score was soon passed without the loss of a wicket. At 82 Thompson was well caught by Milne, and Williams and Gregory then became associated in a partnership which produced 310 runs in 160 minutes. This partnership is a record for the second wicket in Public School cricket, and also the fourth highest partnership for any wicket. Both batsmen gave three chances, but their brisk batting made the bowling look easy. Legge injured his wrist while fielding, and had to leave the field, Hyett, the Wesley 12th man, replacing him. With only half an hour left for play the partnership was still unbroken, but Blair was called upon to bowl for the first time, and when stumps were drawn he had taken the wickets of both century-makers and Evans. Williams, who batted for three and a half hours, and Gregory, who batted for two hours twenty minutes, hit 43 boundaries between them, both being caught in going for big hits. At the close of play Wesley had lost four wickets for 428.

Saturday was another perfect day for cricket, although a little hotter than Friday. In the first over Yock was missed in slips, but he then began to score very freely, and the century partnership was soon reached. At 533 Johnstone was caught off the bowling of Blair, who now had four of the first five wickets. Munday then got three wickets in rapid succession, and eight wickets were down for 567. Pearce made 38 in quick time, and the innings closed for 613. The College fielding was not up to the standard reached in later matches, several chances being missed. Munday, Blair and

THE PEGASUS.

Milne got most of the wickets, while Reid also bowled well at times. The bowlers stuck to their task well, and did very well to get the last five wickets so cheaply.

The College began their second innings before lunch, Piper and Steele again opening to the bowling of Scott and Evans. The scoring was very slow, but the batsmen were getting valuable practice against good bowling. The partnership had realised 47 before Piper went l.b.w. for 23 made in an hour and a quarter. Blair followed and brightened up the scoring rate, but Steele was soon out, caught in slips. 2—24—62. Blair again batted very well, but with the exception of Shave no one could stay with him, and the innings closed for 146 at a quarter to five. Busbridge and Legge did not bat. Blair made 56 in 83 minutes. Gregory was deadly in one spell, and had the excellent figures of 7 for 48 out of the eight wickets that fell. Thus Wesley won by an innings and 389 runs. The final scores were:—

Wesley College won by an innings and 389 runs.

GEELONG COLLEGE v. MELBOURNE GRAMMAR SCHOOL.

This match was played on the College Oval on 9th and 10th March in very hot weather. There was one alteration in the team that played Wesley, Johnstone replacing Busbridge (injured).

Piper again won the toss and decided to bat on a perfect wicket. Piper and Steele opened the innings to the bowling of Parish and Dowsley. Piper was batting confidently when he was clean bowled by Parish for 9. Blair followed and made 4 in quick time before being well caught in the slips by Cooper. Milne followed with two good batsmen out for only 17 runs. In an hour Steele and Milne added 71 before Steele was unfortunate in hitting his wicket when pulling a ball to the on boundary. Legge followed, and although missed in the slips, batted very brightly for 35, being bowled by the last ball before the luncheon adjournment. The score was then four wickets for 145, Milne being 58 not out.

Calvert and Milne carried on after lunch, and maintaining the fast rate of scoring, the 200 was reached in 173 minutes, Milne reached his century at 3.45 p.m., and when 117 gave his only chance, a difficult one to slips. Soon afterwards Calvert was caught in the slips for an excellently compiled 44. With five wickets down for 265 the College were in an excellent position, but the last five wickets only added 47 runs, and the innings closed for the good score of 312. Milne was sixth out for 133 made in 204 minutes, with thirteen boundaries. Of the later batsmen, Johnston did best with 22, being the last batsman out. Parish, Dowsley and Ross were the best of the Grammar bowlers.

Grammar opened their innings at 4.35 p.m. to the bowling of Milne and Gaunt, Both batsmen were uncomfortable facing Gaunt, and he got Dowsley's wicket in his third over. 1—7—14. Kimpton followed, and with Calder he carried the score to 53 for one wicket at stumps, both batsmen playing very carefully.

Saturday was another hot day, slightly hotter than Friday, with a stronger wind. The scoring was very slow for a start, but after Calder's dismissal, Stewart and Kimpton improved the scoring rate. Kimpton was missed at 49, but except for this chance, neither batsmen made a mistake, and at lunch Grammar were in a very strong position with two out for 198, Kimpton being 99 not out, and Stewart 55. Kimpton reached his century immediately after lunch, and the score was carried to 264 before Munday dismissed Kimpton with an excellent one-handed catch. Stewart and Kimpton had put on 184 runs for the third wicket, and had made the game safe for Grammar. Ross followed, but was soon out for 6. Graham was the next batsman, and he and Stewart were still together when the College score was passed. Stewart was on 99 for some time, but after reaching his century, he scored another 20 in a few minutes before being caught on the boundary in going for a second six. Two more wickets fell quickly, and after Parish and Lander had added 33 for the ninth wicket, the innings ended for 376, thus leaving Grammar winners by 64 runs on the first innings. The wickets were evenly divided, Milne, Gaunt, Munday and Steele each getting two. The fielding throughout the innings was excellent, both the ground work and the catching being a great improvement on the AVesley match, The scores were;—

GEELONG COLLEGE v. SCOTCH COLLEGE.

Th match against Scotch this year was played on the College Oval on 16th and 17th March. The team was the same as that which played against Melbourne Grammar School the previous week.

Rain during the night and on the previous day had made the wicket soft, and play was delayed for nearly an hour. Scotch won the toss and sent the College in to bat, Piper and Steele opening to the bowling of Taylor and S. Steele with the sky overcast. Collie relieved Steele after one over, and both bowlers kept the batsmen quiet, only 11 runs being scored in the first half hour. Shortly afterwards Steele was easily caught in the slips by Fearon off S. Steele. 1—5—12. Blair followed, and, batting slower than usual, scored 12 before being well caught on the leg-side by the wicket-keeper. Milne was the next batsman, but was clean bowled by Collie in the last over before lunch, when the score stood at 3 for 41, Piper being 16 not out. The wicket was a little more difficult after lunch, and within a few overs after resuming Legge, Piper and Calvert had all been dismissed, and with six out for 57, College was in a bad position. Piper was caught behind after a very valuable innings which had lasted an hour and a half. Johnstone and Munday, however, added 24 for the seventh wicket, and then Munday and Gaunt figured in an excellent ninth wicket partnership which realised 41, and the innings closed for 122. Munday easily top-scored with 41, Johnstone getting 13 and Gaunt 15 not out. S. Steele and Collie were the best bowlers for Scotch, the former having the excellent figures of six for 25 off 16.6 overs, and the latter getting 3 for 30.

At 4.5 p.m. S. Steele and Collie opened Scotch's innings, Milne and Gaunt being the bowlers. Collie was missed in the slips before he had scored, and shortly afterwards S. Steele was caught by Steele at silly mid-on. Collie was again missed off Gaunt, but next over he was well caught by Gaunt off Milne. Fearon was clean bowled by Milne, and three wickets- were down for 22. Downe and R. Steele made a stand, but at 48 Downe was well caught by Milne at silly-leg after he had given a difficult chance to Milne earlier in the over. 4—31—48. After two appeals against the light, the third was upheld at 5.14 p.m., with no addition to the score.

Saturday was another dull day for cricket. Milne and Gaunt again opened the bowling, and Gaunt clean-bowled Allender in his first over. A heavy shower of rain then delayed play for ten minutes, and shortly after resuming both R. Steele and Leggate were out with the score at 53. Taylor and Brand made a stand, but Taylor was clean-bowled in going for a big hit, and the innings closed for 86, giving College a lead of 36. Gaunt and Milne were mainly responsible for the collapse, getting eight wickets between them, and besides his five wickets Gaunt had five catches missed off his bowling. The College ground-fielding was quite good, but the catching was only fair, several chances being missed, mainly in slips, although Gaunt and Milne each held good catches.

When the College began their second innings the sun was beginning to make the wicket more difficult. Piper and Steele again opened the innings, but the partnership was soon broken, Steele cocking one up to silly-point. 1—2—2. Blair followed, and he and Piper, playing very careful cricket, kept their wickets intact until lunch, when the score was one for 31, Piper being 17 and Blair 7. Blair was out in the second over after lunch, caught at silly-leg, and Milne was out in the same way next over before scoring. 3—0—42. Legge followed and stopped the rot, and, although batsmen gave chances, they carried the score to 81, when Piper was clean-bowled. He had again performed his part of opening batsman well. Calvert was in for some time without scoring before being bowled by S. Steele, and then Legge went l.b.w. for 37 made in an hour and a half. Munday scored 14 quickly, and seven wickets were down for 129. Shave and Johnstone added 24, and when Johnstone was out for 35 Scotch had little chance of winning. The innings closed for 168. Collie and S. Steele again got most of the wickets.

Scotch began their second innings at 4.55 p.m., with the task of getting 204 runs in 65 minutes. All the batsmen went for the runs, but in doing so most of them lost their Avickets, the first four wickets falling for only 12 runs. Downe knocked up 27, including a very fine six, and Leggate and Taylor also got some runs, and the match ended with Scotch 7 down for 80, Gaunt and Milne again getting the wickets. Of the sixteen wickets that fell to our bowlers during the match, Gaunt and Milne got thirteen. Thus College won by 36 runs on the first innings. Scores:—

GEELONG COLLEGE v. XAVIER COLLEGE.

The team for this match, played at Xavier on 23rd and 24th March, was again unaltered. Friday was an excellent day for cricket, and, on winning the toss, the College decided to bat on a fast wicket.

Piper and Steele opened the batting to the bowling of Buxton and E. Ryan. The opening was disastrous, Piper being well caught in slips off the second ball of the match. Blair only made three, and with two out for 14, the College had again started badly. Milne and Steele, however, added 88 for the third wicket in quick time before Milne was caught in slips for 58, made in 80 minutes, Steele was bowled shortly after lunch for a slow, but very useful, 39. Calvert did not add many, and five were out for 142. Legge and Johnstone added 68, Legge top-scoring with 60, made in two hours, after being missed before scoring. Johnstone again batted well for 45, and hit eight fours. The tail failed to "wag," and the innings closed for 248. Buxton and Warhurst were the most successful bowlers, with four for 66 and three for 51.

Xavier commenced their innings at 4.40 p.m., and opened similarly to the College, J. Ryan being out l.b.w., to Milne off the second ball of the innings. Buxton was clean-bowled by Milne for 8, and two wickets were down for 16. E. Ryan and Brosnan settled down and carried the score to 68, before stumps were drawn, Brosnan giving one hard chance.

Light rain fell on Saturday morning, but the wicket was unaffected. Gaunt and Milne opened the bowling, and after ten minutes' play Brosnan went, l.b.w., to Milne for 36. E. Ryan was bowled by Munday shortly afterwards, and four wickets were down for 87. Cohen, Flynn, Williams and Scognamillo were all out within half an hour, and with the score at eight wickets for 109, the College appeared to have the game well in hand. At 12 o'clock an appeal against the light was allowed, the match continuing after five minutes' interval. Warhurst and Billings figured in a determined ninth wicket stand, which produced 57 runs. With Warhurst's dismissal, the innings soon closed for 180 runs at 2.30 p.m., Warhurst top-scoring with 48. Milne and Munday finished up with four for 52 and four for 49, Steele getting the other two wickets. The College fielding was good throughout the innings, while Piper only allowed one bye.

The College opened their second innings with Piper and Steele, and when stumps were drawn at 4.30 p.m., had lost five wickets for 109, Blair and Piper batting well for 39 and 36 respectively, although the former was fortunate in being missed twice. E. Ryan took three wickets for 20. Thus College won by 68 runs on the first innings. The final scores were:—

GEELONG COLLEGE v. GEELONG GRAMMAR SCHOOL.

In our final Public School match at Corio, Piper won the toss, and sent Grammar in to bat on a soft wicket. Owing to rain the wicket intended for the match could not be used, and the outfield was quite dead.

The match started at 11.35, Milne opening the bowling to Hay and Wood, who soon tossed the ball to square leg, and was caught by Munday. Hay quickly followed, caught behind, and one over later Balloch was clean bowled, the score being three wickets for three runs. Had wen was caught in slips, and Reid and Munday bowled, letting Gaunt change to the other end. Hawkes gave a hard chance at square leg, but was later caught at mid-on off Munday. Grant was caught at deep mid-off, and Leach followed, but was soon bowled. Grammar had now lost seven wickets for 26 runs. Jermyn and Lindon continued till lunch, and partnered for 51, until Jermyn was caught off Blair, at short leg, by Gaunt. Rain marred the play after lunch. The last wickets batted well to carry the score to 107.

Balloch opened the bowling for Grammar, Piper and Steele opening for College. Piper was hit over the heart, and was soon bowled by Balloch. Steele was nicely caught between fine and square leg, and Milne was missed at silly leg, but was soon taken in slips. Legge was quickly caught off a full toss from Balloch, who had bowled five maiden overs, taking three wickets for 0; the total score was 4 for 30. At 5 o'clock an appeal against the light was dismissed, but was upheld at the end of the following over. Play did not resume.

On Saturday, Blair and Calvert resumed for College in trying conditions, it being very windy with frequent showers. Eadie opened the bowling, and Blair started with a boundary, and put on 22 with Calvert in the first 20 minutes. Calvert was bowled by Hay, and Blair by Balloch. The score of 50 was compiled in just over 100 -minutes. Johnstone was caught at silly leg by Hawkes, and Munday was bowled by Nathan. Gaunt was caught at second slip. Shave and Reid put a stolid resistance, scoring slowly until Reid went out, l.b.w., at 12.45.

When Grammar started after lunch the sky had cleared, but the wind had strengthened. Hay and Wood started well until Hay was caught by Milne off Munday. Shave caught Wood, and Blair threw down Leach's wicket from the outfield, Leach being run out. Hadwen was caught, and Hawkes dismissed, l.b.w., by Reid'. Rain again commenced at 3.30. In running a sharp two, Jermyn just reached his crease as his wicket was thrown down by Shave. He was soon bowled by Munday, who also took Balloch's wicket, Milne taking the final two wickets. Grammar's innings closed at 4.20 p.m. for 107.

At 4.30 p.m. Milne and Legge opened for College, and rain again commenced. Milne was clean bowled, and Blair, who followed, caught in slips off the next ball. Piper was caught whilst attempting a boundary, and Steele was dismissed l.b.w. to Balloch. College wickets fell quickly and cheaply, many chances being taken in an effort to compile a quick score. Munday hit a six off Grant. The sun came out to brighten the final stages of the game, stumps being drawn at 5.45 p.m. Once again Balloch bowled well, with 10 overs, including 4 maidens, taking 4 for 10.

As only one member of last year's school team returned, J. L. Legge, K. W. Teasdale, H. C. Steele and C. B. Heard gained the coveted distinction of obtaining games in inter-school contests.

Two matches were played, and although we were not very successful the tennis greatly benefited our play.

The annual match against Geelong Grammar School was played on 5th May, at the Geelong Courts under perfect conditions, The teams were as follows:—

Head of the River.

YET another Boat Race has come and gone, and still we have not gained the coveted title of "Head of the River." It can be safely said, however, that the school has never had a pluckier crew, and we congratulate them on their keenness, and the courage which they displayed in fighting out every inch of the course even after they were obviously beaten. They nobly upheld the College tradition of "Never say die," and, although victory was not theirs, we honour them. For the first month the training was very broken owing to sickness in the crew and also to the illness of last year's coach, Mr. L. J. Campbell, who subsequently resigned. His place was taken by Mr. R. Emms, an oarsman of interstate experience, and the way the crew improved in the two months for which they were under him, was a wonderful tribute to his ability. We take this opportunity of thanking Mr. Emms and Mr. Campbell for their splendid work, and also Mr. A. N. Shannon and Mr. Storrer who assisted in the earlier stages of trainings

FIRST HEAT—

The first heat was between Geelong Grammar School on the North, and Xavier College on the centre station. The crews were as follows:—

Although half a length behind at the half-mile, Geelong Grammar pulled up, and won comfortably by about three lengths.

SECOND HEAT—

The second heat, between Scotch College and Wesley College (the holders of the cup), provided the most exciting race of the day. Scotch gained an early lead, and were three-quarters of a length ahead at the bridge, but Wesley began to pull up, and, after a gruelling struggle towards the finish, they went on to win by a length. The crews were:—

THIRD HEAT—

In this heat we had the North station and Melbourne Grammar School the centre. We started off striking at 42 to Melbourne Grammar's 36, but Grammar, with their steadier swing, soon drew away and were leading by a length at the bridge. At the second disc they had increased their lead to a length and three-quarters, and maintained it in spite of a determined effort by the College crew. Coming down the straight, the Grammar, rowing with plenty of power, further increased its lead, and won by three lengths. The crews were:—

THE FINAL—

Geelong Grammar School had the North station, Melbourne Grammar School the centre and Wesley College the South. After a good start Melbourne Grammar quickly went ahead and reached the bridge half a length ahead of Wesley, with another quarter length to Geelong Grammar. Melbourne increased their lead, and reached the first disc with a length on Wesley and Geelong Grammar. The latter then began to pull up, and at the second disc were only half a length behind the dark blues; Wesley, meanwhile had dropped back, and were another two and a half lengths behind. Turning into the straight, Geelong had reduced the lead to a quarter of a length, and rowing beautifully together, were coming up fast. Half-way along the Henley staging Geelong Grammar took the lead, and went away to win by two lengths in a strong finish. Melbourne Grammar had gone to pieces, and Wesley were fast overhauling them.

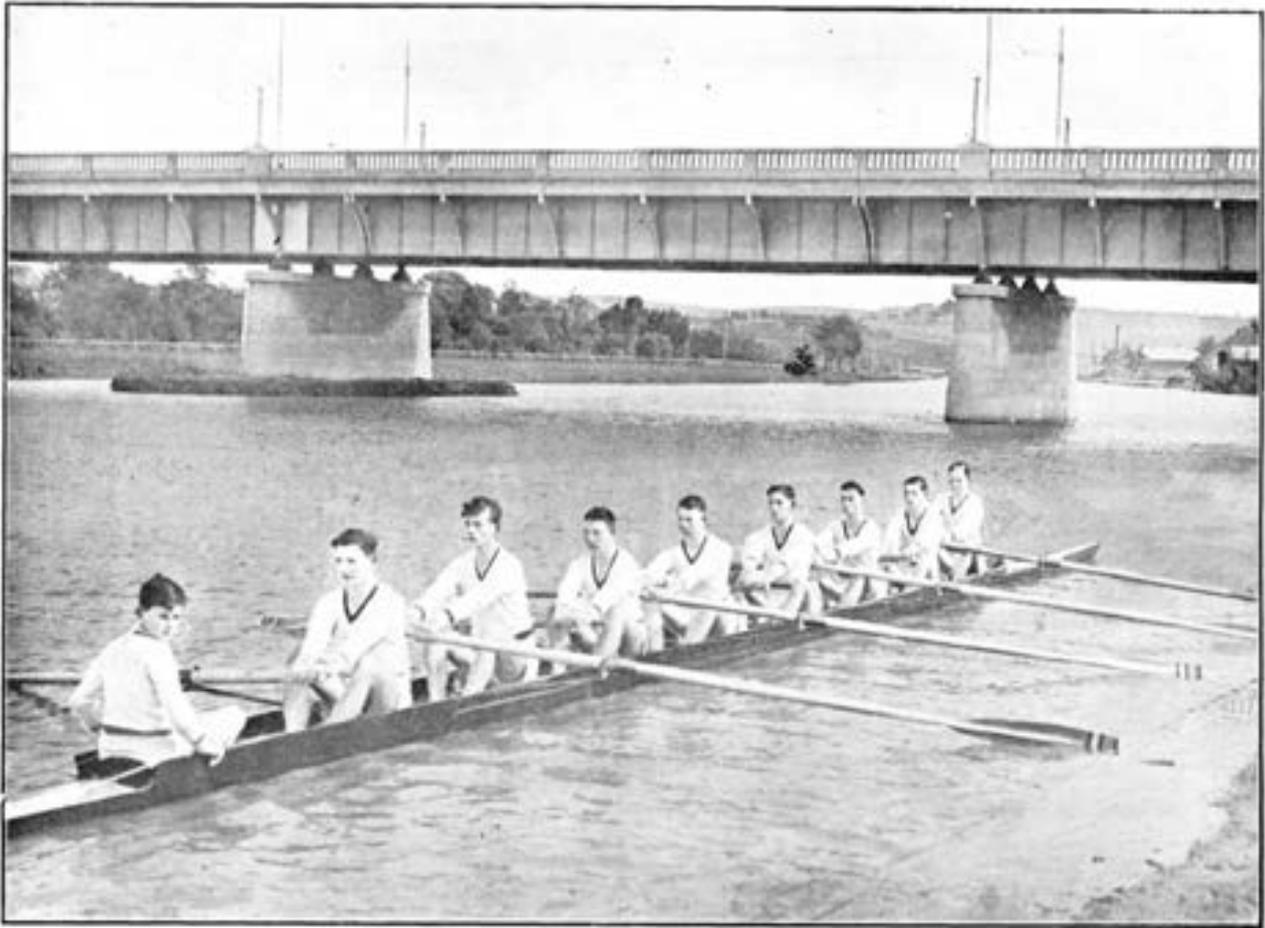

We extend our heartiest congratulations to Geelong Grammar School on a very well-merited victory.

Second and Third Eights' Boat Races.

On Friday afternoon, 11th May, the annual second and third eights races were held on the Barwon against Geelong Grammar School. As the inter-State school crews were also rowing, there were many more spectators than usual.

THIRD EIGHTS.

College Third VIII.—K. Angwin (bow), J. G. Simpson (2), R. H. Wettenhall (3), C. J. Cooke (4), J. S. Cochrane (5), E. Wollff (6), J. N. Sloane (7), J. L. Macalister (stroke), W. G. McGregor (cox.).

J. B. Ferguson (4), N. J. Funston (3), J. A. Thomas (2), L. Wills (bow).

College started badly, Grammar getting away well and establishing a lead which they steadily increased to win by four lengths.

Geelong Grammar School, 1; Geelong College, 2.

SECOND EIGHTS.

College Second VIII.—C. H. Sloane (bow), D. A. Gunning (2), J. A. Gerrard (3), D. M. Calvert (4), J. Fairley (5), H. E. Radcliffe (6), J. A. MacLeod (7), J. W. Legge (stroke), N. C. Reid (cox.).

Both crews got away together, College striking about 39. For the first minute the crews kept together, College leading at one stage. Before the Mills, however, Grammar's weight began to tell, and they drew away; this lead they slowly increased, and won by 1½ lengths.

Geelong Grammar School, 1; Geelong College, 2.

Football Notes.

WE have gone to press before the start of the Public School football matches. The prospect, as indicated by practice matches, does not appear very bright, but the team is training well and hopes to give a good account of itself later in the season. We can be sure that it will do its utmost. A. E. Piper has achieved the distinction of being captain of Football as well as Cricket, and receives our congratulations. O. S. Shave is vice-captain of Football.

The Ormond Letter.

Dear Collegians,—

Another term has passed, bringing some of us nearer to the completion of our courses, and giving others of us our first taste of University and College life. For both, the term has combined lots of fun, with a fair amount of work.

This term has been an exceptionally vital one for the freshmen, of whom there are four from College: C. A. McKinnon, B. Kennedy, R. M. Hamilton and L. Young. They have entered upon the freer life which is found away from school; a life in which each individual is left to battle for himself, and a life which is filled with temptations designed to turn the student away from the main object of his student life—his course.

The small but sturdy band of Old Collegians in Ormond has followed all your activities with the keenest interest. Although they applaud you for your successes, and sympathise in your failures, they are apt to make comparisons with their own days at school, so it is up to you to emulate and surpass the deeds of past Collegians, both in scholarship and sport. Many of us find it difficult to realise that some of you who were in the Prep, when we were at College, are now taking your places in the Sixth, and filling places in the first teams; and that, before long, you will, as we hope, be coming up to join us here.

As in the past, the training at College has stood us in good stead, and Old Collegians are to the fore in every activity in Ormond. Jock Adam, whose name is closely linked with the Morrison Hall clock, is President of the Students' Club, and is thus the most important man in Ormond.

Jock Adam (stroke), Don Duffy, Pat Wood, Jim Nimmo and John Goto filled places in the victorious Ormond crew which won back the coveted Mervyn Bourne Higgins Trophy from Trinity. Niel Shannon, Allan McAdam, Jim Young, Ewen McLean, Doug Hicks, and Don Watson were in the Ormond Eleven, which suffered defeat by Newman in the final of the inter-collegiate cricket. Ormond continued their run of victories in the inter-collegiate Athletics, and won the F. J. Cato shield for the sixteenth year since the war. R. R. Smith, Don Watson and Leo Young were members of the successful team.

When you next hear from us you will be in the midst of that gloriously full third term at school, while we will be under the shadow of one of the greatest curses of this life—examinations. Till then, best of luck in all your activities.

"ORMOND."

Food for Thought.

I heard this adage
 From the lips of a sage
 Whose ear never hearkens to patter.
 Upon a suggestion, I asked him a question—
 "What is matter?" He replied, "Never mind."
 By this answer aghast, I asked him at last
 "What is mind?" He answered, "No matter!"

THE PEGASUS.

Longing for Home.

O happy is the man who sails
O'er all this earth's wide space,
And to his home returns again,
Ere he has run his race.

Though I have roam'd o'er every sea,
And many countries iseen,
I miss Australia's sunny land,
And pleasant pastures green.

When shall I see my home once more,
Beneath the southern -skies?
Shall I behold my love again
Before life ebbs and dies?

For dearer is my humble home
Than Rome's proud lofty towers;
More fragrant are those roses red
Than all the tropic flowers.

I long to change my weary course,
And set my steps for home;
And when at last I join my love,
My feet no more will roam.

The Sport of Rowing.

THE term sporting proselyte may be quite justifiably applied to me, for, having worshipped at the shrine of football from childhood, I became a convert to rowing about eighteen months ago.

When discussing sport, we ask ourselves, "What are its functions in our lives?" The first answer is, of course, recreation, but we must probe more deeply into the subject. How many of us during a game, whatever it may be, pause to consider the effect that the playing of the game has upon our physique? Very few, I should say. And yet, while we are indulging ourselves in the joy of sport, we are simultaneously building up our bodies.

During the tender years of a man's life, when he is passing from boyhood into manhood, it is essential that he should avoid solitude and be as much as possible in the company of others. And so, when work is over, a boy usually occupies his mind at sport with his friends. This is, perhaps, the most vitally important of all the functions of sport in the life of one who has not yet reached the age of twenty-five.

It is to sport that we turn to learn the team spirit. Everyone remembers the story of the seven quarrelling sons of the old merchant, who, perceiving their strife, handed them a bundle of seven sticks tied together and asked each in turn to break it. Upon the failure of all, the old man untied the bundle, and broke each of the rods, one by one, saying, "My sons, as long as you remain united, no one will be able to do you any harm."<sup>7</sup> Unity is strength. A team that is not united is rarely successful, while it is the team spirit which means so much to us in life.

The path of life is one of ups and downs, one in which the odds against us are great, and defeat has to be encountered. Sport trains us for life, since it teaches us to take our defeats with a smile, and to say, "We live to fight another day."

To set the cause above renown,
 To love the game beyond the prize.

Surely this is the essence of the sporting spirit which does so much to help us along the road of life.

As I glance through these four functions, I see that rowing provides them all. What is a more enjoyable pastime for a person engaged in a sedentary occupation whose only exercise is the pushing of a pen? A "swing" along the river just at dusk gives a delightful feeling—one of pent-up energy revelling in the opportunity of being able to strain behind the oar.

Every sport is a body-builder, but none to such an extent as rowing, where every ounce of strength from all the muscles in the body is summoned, the effect being noticeable after a few weeks, since one trains at meal times as well as in the boat.

Playing on the back line of a strong football team (and, conversely, on the forward line of a weak one), a boy is frequently on the field for a whole quarter without once touching the ball. In cricket, every player on the batting side has long periods of idleness, while the same thing may be said of baseball, and, to a lesser degree, tennis. In rowing this is not the case, for your mind must be occupied with your work in the boat all the time. Rowing demands concentration—if this is absent the whole crew is unbalanced. The mind is thereby provided with food for thought.

Cricket teams have sometimes won when short of a man, as have football eighteens, but this can never be accomplished by a crew, whether it be a pair, a four or an eight. Rowing requires greater team spirit than any other sport. Those bodies must be at the same angle at the same time, those hands must shoot forward together, and that catch must take place at precisely the same moment throughout the boat, followed by that strain on all those legs. That is rowing. What other sport demands such accuracy from all members concerned? Individual effort is detrimental, concerted effort means success.

What a thrilling—yet rare—feeling it is to be nearing the winning-post with the opposing crew a length or more behind! Somehow or other, frequent victories come to very few oarsmen, and they are usually accomplished intermittently. And so in rowing, while delighting in the fruits of victory, we must take our defeat as in every other game. Defeat means try a little harder next time.

While according to all other sports the respect and consideration due to them, I cast my vote in favour of rowing—the man's sport.

Houses.

(To the tune "Botany Bay").

When House competitions are happening,
 The barrackers stand round the iground,
 To cheer and encourage their favourites
 With very unmusical sound.

Chorus—

There's no house as good as old Morrison,
 And none to compare with Warrinn;
 Our Shannon is quite unsurpassable,
 But Calvert's the house to be in—be in.

And whether a house is victorious,
 Or whether it suffers defeat,
 The barrackers shout just as heartily—
 "You wait till next time we meet."

Chorus—

Oil Tuesday they line up in uniform,
 And march out of step with the drum;
 They're swinging along to another song,
 And this is the tune that they hum—

Chorus—

THE BEGASUS.

The Fall of a Palace.

Pyrrhus himself stands in the very door,
His arms agleam with brazen sheen.
Like serpent, gorged with baneful herbs, he stands,
Which wriggles out into day's gleaming light;
Up rears his ugly head, with forked tongue,
As he hi's slimy breast sways in the air,
His old skin sloughed, his new one glitters fresh.

With mighty arms he swings his two-edged axe,
And the brass gates resound with hollow clang
As he a gaping cavern there displays.—
Shrieks from within, the empty hall resound
And yet, he presses on, his limbs shine sweat.
Nor doors nor guards his fathers's strength withstand,
And now from mighty hinge down torn, the door
Falls flat—the way to Priam's doom lies plain.
The Trojans butchered there by Grecian steel
Are what remained of Priam's armed hand.
Inrushing Greeks have filled the palace hall,—
As if, when ruptured banks give way,
The swollen stream pours out, engulfing all,
With furious foaming rush, the herds in terror flee
Or meekly die.
So Phrryus' band sweeps all before.
Hecuba's brood, the fifty marriage beds,
The blood-stained altar's sacred flames for ever
Are o'er-turned. The graven posts are spoil;
The Greeks hold sway where fire leaves them free.

Of Priam's doom I tell.—
Ait altar, opeai to the stars he sits,
His royal family, clinging close, are like
To tempest-scattered doves—in sanctuary.
Here Polites flown from Pyrrhus' sword,
Is foully slain, his father's ire aroused
He feebly hurls his armed dart—
From leathern boss it swings.
Pyrrhus then, the old man's hair entwined,
Drags the slipping father to his doom,
And mingles kingly blood on holy ground,
As gleaming steel finds living sheath.—
-My tale is told, Priam is dead.

The Honoured Sixth.

A Reply to the Song of Lower V.

We are the honoured Sixth, such boys
Of intellect are we;
We look with scorn on your small joys
And tedious revelry.

Chorus—

With bats and balls and boats and oars,
As long as we've been here;
We've worked like Trojans every day
Throughout the blooming year.

The obstacles of Calculus,
Biology and Trig.,
Are never known to (baffle us
Because our brains are big.

We earn our newspaper and fire,
The sanctuary of our room;
Watch out, you never raise our ire,
Or you will meet your doom!

We are so well behaved you know,
From records we are free;
And into Det. we never go,
Nor are we late for tea.

Chorus—

With boring notes and reference books
I honestly declare,
We'll have to work some overtime
To get a pass this year.

Turf Sensation.

COW-PADDOCK FRAUDS REVEALED.

Heavy Losses in Game of Chance.

A mild riot has been located at Newtown after allegations of "graft," which bids fair to overshadow the laxity of the late lamented Stalewisky. It is asserted that none of the cow-paddock cricket teams have been registered with the O.G.P.U. (Outdoor Games Prevention Union). Someone is declared to have queered the pitch in the main arena, so that neither batsmen nor bowlers can foretell where a ball will go. It is thus useless to place the field. Attention has also been called to the number of men in an eleven. The number has been detected in the proximity of fourteen on two occasions. It is also alleged that the material in use is inferior to that used by the first and even second XI's. Officials are stated to have received their posts only by heavy bribery and corruption, which is prevalent in the locality; furthermore, owing to the distance of the fence from the wicket, and the doubtful nature of the outfield, it is practically impossible to score a boundary. A special Royal Commission of the Prefecture has been appointed with judicial powers to clear the matter.

ANONYMOUS THE SECOND, REPORTER.

Sunset—Upper Macedon.

The last, long, golden rays of day steal down the forest glade;
 The murm'ring of a mountain brook sighs on through ferns and shade;
 Through leaves of lofty forest giants, breezes whisper still;
 A skylark, singing even now, drops downward o'er the hill.

From either side the mountain road shy rabbits soon appear,
 And in the valley far below, the bellbirds' notes chime clear;
 Upon a monstrous fallen gum a grey wood-pigeon rests,
 Ere, winging low above the fern, he speeds toward his nest.

But still upon the mountain top the leaves are shimm'ring gold,
 While, in the valley far below, on forest giants old
 Green leafy limbs hang still as death; and through the silent shades,
 Slow stealing on the chilly air, a mountain mist pervades.

But now the skylark nears his nest; his warbling notes are stilled;
 And through the branches of the gums no dancing beams are spilled;
 A deeper gloom o'ershades the vale; at last no sound is heard
 Unless it be a murm'ring brook, or some far distant bird.

The Song of the Hiker.

Down through the mountain valley, the river drops away,
 We're up to follow in its course at breaking of the day;
 And ere the night has fallen we've descended from the hills,
 And pitched our camp upon the plain, beside a thousand rills.

When everything is silent in the stillness of the night,
 We gather round the fire that is burning full and bright.
 We listen, and we wonder as the river rushes by,
 And watch the moon arising in the brightening, star-lit sky.

We are pleased to welcome to Geelong Alec Sutherland, M.A., M.C.E., after a long absence in South Africa.

J. D. Harper has kindly consented to act as London Representative in Great Britain.

The London Old Boys are looking forward to the arrival of Mr. Holland, and to holding a happy re-union.

We are grateful to Esdale Andrew for assistance given in London since the resignation of Colin Calvert, who returned to Australia in 1933.

W. D. Young visited Geelong for the Boat Race, after his trip to Tasmania in charge of the South Australian Interstate Eight, which competed at Hobart.

David E. Davies will sit for his final in Dentistry next July.

Ben Chaffey has made a good recovery following his attack of diphtheria. We are pleased to know he has resumed his normal life at "Woodlands," Casterton.

It is with deep regret we learn of the unexpected death of Mrs. George Read, of Brachour, Wagga, in March. Our sympathy is extended to Mr. Read and his family in their sad bereavement.

The following appeared in The Geelong Advertiser, of the 24th March:—"How often one hears of old Geelong boys occupying elevated positions throughout the Commonwealth and abroad! In a leading West Australian newspaper sent to me the other day I came across a pen picture and a photograph of another brilliant product of this city—Dr. J. S. Battye, chief librarian of the Perth Public Library, and Pro-Chancellor of the University of Western Australia. Dr. Battye was born at Geelong, and received his early education at the Flinders School. After winning an exhibition there, he went on to Geelong College, and then to the University. He followed up with his Bachelor of Arts degree in 1891, and two years later supplemented it with the letters LL.B. From 1889 to 1894 he was assistant librarian at the Melbourne Public Library, and in August of the last-mentioned year arrived at Perth as librarian of the public institution there. The library was in the miniature stage then; to-day it boasts 167,000 volumes, worth about £100,000. In 1912 Dr. Battye became general secretary of the library, museum and art gallery, a position he still retains. His services to the University of Western Australia have been extensive. He is also a prominent Freemason, having been deputy grand master of the grand lodge of Freemasons of Western Australia from 1908 to 1915, and from 1918 to 1919. He was also the first grand principal of the Royal Arch Chapter, filling the position from 1910 to 1921, and again since 1922. In 1924 he published a history of the Western State, for which he received the degree of Litt. Dr., from the Melbourne University. He is also editor of the Encyclopaedia of Western Australia, and the "History of the North-West." It might be mentioned incidentally that two of Dr. Battye's sisters, Miss I. M. Battye and Mrs. J. W. Ballans, are residents of Geelong.

Jim Hamilton gained his flying wings with the Defence Department at Laverton before returning to Ormond College in April.

C. L. Thompson, our Queensland Representative, has changed his address to Griffiths House, 207 Queen Street, Brisbane.

Jock AVatson was successful in passing Biology and Nat. Phil, at the examinations held at Aberdeen University in March. We understand he also gained a second class certificate for the year's work.

Iain Pattison (Scotty) will pass on from Aberdeen to Edinburgh in October to study veterinary science.

Norman Wettenhall sailed by the R.M.S. "Maloja" in June for a trip to Europe before commencing his medical course.

Dr. Claude Backwell, of Brisbane, is at present visiting Melbourne on special eye and ear study.

H. E. Winstanley, who filled fifth place in the recent open examination for the Victoria Public Service, for which there were 1200 entries, was successful also in gaining a high place in the Commonwealth Public Service examinations. He is now employed on "Customs" work in Geelong.

To ten out of some five hundred applicants from all over the Commonwealth, commissions were awarded to the Air Force. One of the ten was our old friend V. C. (Gar) Wood, and we congratulate him, warmly.

A tablet in stone beautifully engraved was unveiled at the Gordon Institute of Technology on Friday, 8th June, to the memory of Stanley Davidson who gave his life in France during 1916.

THE PEGASUS.

K. M. Wilson, in a recent letter writes:—"I have been in the employ of Dalgety and Company Limited since I left school in 1928. The firm has a large number of Public School boys on the staff, and the fact that one has been educated at one of the Public Schools gives one a sort of standing that seems to count. Boys are usually taken on about 16 years of age, so that they get five years' experience before they begin to draw full award wages. I sometimes meet boys who were at the College in my time. The Hardy brothers, Scottie Andrew (reporting for "The Argus"), Doc. Hicks, Jack Adam and Don Ingpen. I met the last three when I played Rugby against the University teams. I learnt the game at Toowoomba Grammar School, and now play Rugby for St. Kilda. John Coto is also a convert to the game, and writes enthusiastically of its excellent qualities. The College must look better now that the new buildings are completed. I go to Geelong only twice a year with the football team, but I shall certainly try to get away early one day to see everything once again."

C. C. Gale has spent a very strenuous six months preparing the extensive mass of detail involved in the planning of the Royal visit and tour. He has received the assistance of a Cabinet sub-committee, consisting of the Premier and Messrs. Goudie and Kent Hughes.

Ivor Craig, of "Rocklea" Estate was married in April to Miss Maud Edwards, of Winehelsea.

Allan McCrow has announced his engagement to Miss Mclvor, of Westmere.

William Holdsworth has become engaged to Miss Harrison, of Westmere, Victoria.

L. A. McConnell, of Barham, is engaged to Miss Nancy Nosedá, of Aphrasia Street, Geelong.

WIMMERA OLD BOYS.

ARARAT OLD BOYS.

The first Re-union of Old Public School Boys was held at Ararat on the 19th May, and from accounts received passed off very successfully. The following' Old Geelong Collegians attended :—D. Craig, J. M. David, J. A. C. Hunter, W. Brebner, Alex Morris, A. J. H. Gray, D. Bechervaise, A. S. McDonald. J. M. David acted as organizing secretary.

HAMILTON OLD BOYS.

The Hamilton Old Public School Boys held a Re-union this year at the Victoria Hotel, which was well supported by Geelong members. 74 sat down to dinner. Les. Carty was elected President for the new year.

BENDIGO OLD BOYS' ASSOCIATION.

On May the 19th, Bendigo held a successful dinner, at which the Association was well represented by Colin Campbell.

BRISBANE OLD PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

The annual boat race for Old Boys of the Victorian Public Schools residing in Queensland, was rowed on Saturday, the 19th May. Geelong Collegians were represented by W. A. S. Dunlop (stroke), Ray Matthews, Dr. Alan Lee, C. Whitford, C. L. Thompson (cox.).

After leading for some time, Geelong Collegians were defeated by about half a length by Geelong Grammarians. Melbourne Grammarians were third, Wesley Collegians fourth, and Scotch Collegians fifth.

Subsequently a re-union dinner was held at Lennon's Hotel, and attended by the following Old Collegians:—Ray Matthews, John Watt, Bill Dunlop, C. Whitford, N. Fairley, C. Thompson, Geo. Deans (piano).

O. L. Thompson acted as organizing secretary, and was re-elected for 1934.

WAGGA WAGGA OLD BOYS.

The Victorian Public Schools' Old Boys' Association held their annual "At Home" on 18th April. Geelong Collegians were well represented.

OLD BOYS' TIES.

On an order from the Hon. Secretary the all-wool tie, selected by the Committee, may be obtained by members from Bright & Hitchcocks, Geelong, at a cost of 4/6, which amount should be paid to the firm mentioned, and not to the Secretary.

Orders issued by the Secretary are restricted to financial members of the Association.

ENDOWMENT FUND.

The Life Endowment Scheme has continued to increase through the steady support of Old Boys, who find no fault with the system of limited payments in these days of depression.

If you are interested, the organizer, Mr. S. B. Hamilton Calvert, will be pleased to call on you or post fuller particulars and prospectus.

With thanks to the many policy-holders who have already subscribed.

OLD BOYS' SMOKE NIGHT IN MELBOURNE.

A re-union, primarily for Old Collegians of the Metropolitan area, was held on Thursday, 14th June. About fifty Old Boys (including a party from Geelong) met at a Smoke Night at the Piccadilly Cafe, Melbourne.

After the toast of The King had been drunk, the President of the Old Collegians' Association, Mr. J. B. Tait, proposed The Geelong College. He said that the Melbourne meeting was in no way taking the place of the Annual Re-union in Geelong, but was intended rather to bring Melbourne boys together prior to the Geelong gathering, to encourage good fellowship and to induce them to go down to Geelong and make the day there a success. The toast was seconded by Mr. Theodore Fink in a humorous speech full of reminiscences of his Geelong days. Dr. A. N. McArthur supported Mr. Fink in his usual vigorous way.

Mr. MacRoberts replied on behalf of the school, and stressed the way in which the expansion of the school was made possible by the support given by Old Boys, and said how pleased the school was to see Old Boys who were passing through Geelong.

The speeches were interspersed with songs and monologues which added to the pleasure of the evening.

After supper, the singing of Auld Lang Syne brought a very enjoyable evening to a close.

OLD COLLEGIANS' CHOIR.

The Old Collegians' Choir is continuing its weekly practices in preparation for the concert to be held in July next.

The work is interesting and varied, and comprises operatic selections, soldier songs, sea songs, and negro melodies. The committee intends to make the programme as varied as possible at every choir concert.

The entire proceeds of the forth-coming concert will be for the Geelong' Collegians Old Boys' Choir Scholarship. It is hoped that it will be possible for the choir to continue its practice in this direction after the concert.

There will be several solos contributed by Old Boys. As the conductor, Mr. Sampson, has been called away to Williamstown on Tuesdays during the last two months, the work of conducting the choir has been very ably carried out by Mr. C. F. H. Ipsen, of the Geelong College staff.

The choir committee proposes to hold the concert on the evenings of a Saturday and the following Monday. Thus Public School girls and boys may have an opportunity of attending the Saturday, and the general public the Monday evening performance.

OBITUARY.

Andrew Spence Chirnside (1861) passed away at a private hospital in Melbourne on the 17th April.

One of the earliest Old Boys attending the College in Skene Street with his brother Bob, he has followed the progress of the school with deep interest.

A foundation Life Member of the Old Boys' Association, he has held office on the committee since 1899, declining the office of President on more than one occasion.

His generous contributions towards the Building and Endowment Funds have throughout his life been a great inspiration to those most interested in promoting the welfare of the College.

He left the College for England at an age too early to permit his name to be perpetuated on the Honour Rolls, but from sporting performances achieved in later years one realizes what the College may have missed.

Big-game shooting in Africa, with only one white companion, lured him after the Zulu War. He returned with many trophies of the chase, and F.R.G.S. after his name, a tribute to his work in tracing the distance between Lake Nyassa and Tanganyika. One of his works was a brochure exposing the activities of the Blantyre Mission, which aroused the Church of Scotland to immediate and effective measures to deal with the atrocities committed under the cloak of religion.

He was the oldest member of the Melbourne Club, and an old member of the Victoria Racing Club. He bred many noted racehorses at Newminster Park, and won many notable races. As a rider himself he had few equals—once at Flemington, he fell at the last fence, remounted, and still won the steeplechase. As a huntsman he followed the hounds for years. In 1881-2, at Ballarat, he hunted his own pack, which he took there from his old home at Werribee Park, and when the Ballarat District Hunt Club came into existence, he was its first master. He organized and equipped at his own expense the Chirnside Mounted Cadets, who drilled at Colac, whilst he lived at Coragulae Estate, where he bred many splendid Milking Short-horn cattle. A fine polo player, he played with the Camperdown and Colac Clubs, and established the well-known Chirnside Cup tournaments.

He was at one time the owner of large Queensland properties, notably Vindex Station, also in South Australia, but in more recent years his interests were largely confined to Edrington (Berwick) and Vite Vite (Derrinallum).

At Race Week and at the Head of the River we shall all miss his cheery laughter and support. To his widow and daughter Joan (Mrs. Alec Waugh) we extend our heartfelt sympathy.

Robert James Moore (1887) died at his home, 28 Andrew St., Brighton, on the 8th May. He was largely instrumental in the foundation of the Sailors' Rest at Geelong, in which institution he took a keen interest through his life.

Moreton Cameron (1921) died suddenly whilst undergoing an operation on the throat in May. We extend our heartfelt sympathy to his aunt, Miss Dora D'Helin, and his fiancée, Miss Frost,
