The Right Reverend F. W. Rolland, M.C., M.A.,
Moderator of the Presbyterian Church of Victoria,
Principal of Geelong College.

"MAY you ever be true to the Green, White and Blue."—in other words, "may you ever have the School Spirit!" "School Spirit" is a rather vague term to most of us, yet it plays a tremendous part in our lives and in the life of the school. It would be useless to try to give a concrete definition, but one might say that it means "Love of the School" and it is this love which we must all try to achieve.

We go out and cheer lustily at the Head of the River races and at our football matches. That cheering does mean something, but is it enough? Do we think about our school at other times? Do we ever think when we are in public, that some of our actions or words might be objectionable to others? Do we always try to do our share to uphold the school? Unfortunately we are all apt to forget occasionally, or neglect little, seemingly unimportant things, just because they are too much trouble. The odd feature of the whole matter is that the "small" things are far more important and can do more good to us and the school than the greatest feats in sport could ever accomplish. Honesty, sportsmanship, politeness and generosity bless both him that gives and him that takes.

Some schoolboys imagine that by putting on their school blazers they are at once imbued with the School Spirit. This idea is held not only by the wearers but also by many of those who see them and assume that these boys exemplify the spirit of the school in whatever they do. The view is erroneous, however, for many pass through a school without ever acquiring a vestige of School Spirit, but loyalty bids us try to live up to that impression and place the love of the school before love of ourselves. The School Spirit is not a gift, but a prize.

We must be proud of Geelong College and, in remembering what we owe it, "strive to repay what is due." During the last seventy-five years it has become a great College. Let us endeavour to make it even greater now and in years to come, so that all of us may be able to say with justifiable pride, "Why! I used to go there! I helped to make it what it is!"

There will be two issues of "The Pegasus" for 1937, the next number appearing in December.

General Assembly: Rev. F. W. Rolland inducted as Moderator.

This year's General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church of Victoria held unusual interest for Geelong College by virtue of the fact that the Principal, Rev. F. W. Rolland, had been chosen as Moderator Elect. The induction ceremony was performed at the opening of Assembly on Monday, April 26, by the Rt. Rev. A. Irving Davidson, the retiring Moderator and an Old Geelong Collegian.

Mr. Davidson gave an account of the selection of his successor and set out the reasons for this choice. In reviewing Mr. Rolland's career, he mentioned that instead of taking an ordinary charge the incoming moderator had gone out to Central Australia where no work was being done by any church for the scattered pastoralists and miners. This led to the foundation of the Australian Inland Mission. Later Mr. Rolland was called to Noorat, and during his time there was granted leave of absence for a year to establish the Presbyterian Church in the North West Territory. He went to the war as a chaplain, gained the Military Cross and was appointed to Geelong College in 1920.

Mr. Davidson then asked the assembled representatives of the Church to state freely if they would have Mr. Rolland as Moderator. A reverberating, unanimous "Aye!" was the response, whereupon all past Moderators left the hall to return in dignified procession with the Moderator Elect, who was welcomed by Mr. Davidson and solemnly inducted with prayer.

THE PEGASUS,

Mr. Rolland thanked the Assembly and went on happily to express the hope that their faith in him would be justified.

In his inaugural address, entitled "We Camp Followers," Mr. Rolland said that in the Christian Church to-day the camp followers are out of all proportion to the size of the army. But we must come, however late, to find a place, however humble, in the ranks of God. We shall never know the truth of the Universe till we become part of its Truth, until we live ourselves into it.

Two days later the gravity of church government was relieved when Mr. S. B. Hamilton-Calvert presented the report of the Council of Geelong College. Doubtless Mr. Hamilton-Calvert gained confidence from the knowledge that the Moderator at least would appreciate the problems and progress of the College.

During the first term the Principal was away from the College for a few weeks, but this will be the only considerable absence caused by his Church duties. Mr. Rolland will do some necessary travelling in the school vacations, and in the case of any other unavoidable absences, Mr. MacRoberts will again act as Principal.

PROGRESS OF GEELONG COLLEGE.

The School Beautiful.

THE last ten years have seen a great difference in the outward and inward appearance of our school. The Principal has been able to infect with his love of beauty many of his generous friends, and the Council has enthusiastically supported him. In Mr. Philip Hudson was found an Architect who could enter into the vision of the School Beautiful; he has done his finest work at the College.

The Dining Hall remains, in the perfection of its proportions and the harmony of its detail, second to none in the Empire. The cloisters, now that they have gone so far towards completion and have their green lawns at their feet, give more than a hint of the charm that the quadrangle will one day possess, while the South Wing with its austere simplicity is one of the most impressive school buildings in Victoria.

But perhaps the gem of the school architecture is the new House of Music. It has made the Oval the playing field of a great Public School. Seen from the pavilion it is an ever recurring delight. The first impression of the College is at length worthy of it. The traveller receives a shock of glad surprise as he emerges from the uninspired architecture of the neighborhood upon this exquisite piece of Gothic. He is suddenly in a new world, or rather an old world, where all is harmony and grace. Old slates have been procured to match the bricks, and the result is a unity possessing the quiet beauty of perfect things.

To see the House of Music in its final setting it is necessary to imagine hand wrought iron gates cutting off the sharp angle of the two streets. They will open on to an avenue sweeping round the oval, which will give the House of Music the appearance of the College Lodge, while the gums that at present hide the oval will be replaced by tall poplars guarding the drive.

In another ten years the tree planting scheme which the Principal has been gradually extending with the help of Councillor Stinton, who has for years presented the College with trees, will make the grounds a glorious setting for the purple and brown of the College brick, and the purple and grey of its slate.

It is little wonder perhaps that school architects beginning new buildings should so often make a pilgrimage to Geelong College. Though there is still much to be improved—the chemistry laboratory is shouting to be allowed to move—the Council, considering its limited resources, may well be congratulated on the lead the College has given to Australian schools in the realm of architecture.

Purchase of New Property.

Owing to the large increase of boarders at Geelong College in recent years, constant additions have had to be made to the accommodation. Besides the improvements to the Senior and Junior Houses, an addition was made to Warrinn House during the last vacation.

Still, however, the demand for places has been increasing, and at the last meeting of the College Council the question of providing another House was discussed, and it was decided to buy more land near the College, with a view to a further extension.

The newly acquired property is the valuable block and residence situated at the corner of Noble and Talbot Streets and adjoining the House of Guilds. The buildings are capable of accommodating comfortably another twenty boarders, in addition to two masters and the necessary staff.

The new House will be occupied immediately.

SCHOOL ITEMS.

THIS year we welcomed several newcomers in the teaching staff. Mr. Henderson having exchanged with Mr. C. F. Whorwell, of an English Public School, the latter now occupies the position of Senior Science Master. Mr. Whorwell will remain with us for a year, we trust a happy one.

The place of Mr. Bechervaise as Warden of the House of Guilds has been taken by Mr. R. E. Radcliffe, with Mr. Cooke as assistant. Both are old boys of the College and have shown great interest in the affairs of the House.

Letters received from Mr. Bechervaise indicate that he is having a happy, adventurous trip around Europe and we look forward to some interesting stories on his home-coming next year.

Mr. H. Dunkley has returned to the College after completing a course at the Teachers' Training College, Melbourne.

Mr. G. Logie-Smith has been appointed as full-time music master to assist Mr. Shepherd, whose regular visits continue.

We would also welcome Miss E. Baird who has come to the College as Kindergarten teacher in place of Mrs. Bechervaise, who accompanied her husband to Europe.

Although a little late in doing so, we should like to congratulate Mr. G. H. Lawton on having obtained his degree of Bachelor of Education, which he completed at the end of last year.

We are pleased to note the return of Miss Reeves from abroad. Miss Reeves has once again taken over the position of Bursar. To Miss Barker, who is also in the office, we extend a hearty welcome. Miss Purnell has left to take up a new post.

Congratulations to T. G. Inglis on his appointment as Captain of the School, as well as to the other new prefects:—J. L. Calhoun, T. M. Collins, T. T. Laidlaw, N. G. Sutherland, R. D. Watson and R. H. A. Wetterihall.

Physical Training continues to play an important part in the school. This year the time-table was arranged to allow of a programme of exercises before recess each Monday, Wednesday and Friday morning. With Mr. Dunkley in charge, a progressive smartening effect has been evident.

Anzac Day falling on a Sunday this year, the College observance consisted of a simple ceremony at morning assembly on Friday, April 23rd, with the reading of the names of Old Boys who fell in the Great War, and special services on the 25th. The Cadet Corps took part in the civic commemoration service at Kardinia Park.

During the next vacation there will take place in Melbourne one of the outstanding events in Australia's Educational History, the International Conference on Education, at which Victorian teachers will have the opportunity of sitting at the feet of famous educationalists from every continent. Several College masters will attend. On Wednesday, August 25th, a large party of members of the Conference will come to the Geelong College to inspect recent educational developments here.

Cedric H. Sloane, who left the College in 1934, is to be thanked for the gift of about forty recent numbers of the "Miroir du Monde," which are being read and enjoyed among the French classes of the senior school.

THE PEGASUS, NEW BUILDINGS.

When the College closed at the end of 1936 the building improvements were at such a stage that all the spectator could see was brick dust and clay. The work was carried on assiduously during the long vacation, however, and when school commenced this year order could be seen arising from chaos. The quadrangle was the chief section remaining unfinished, being a rough mass of rubble. This too was soon covered with a layer of loam and finally an area of pleasant verdure displayed itself. The pavilion was deprived of its gargoyles, rotunda and turrets and reconstructed to harmonise with the other buildings. During the first term a massive flagpole was erected on the clock tower of the Morrison Hall. The House of Music has now been completed and presents a distinguished appearance to both the street and school sides.

Indoors, new dormitories, boarders' sitting rooms and masters' common room have been provided. The Morrison Library has been remodelled, giving its massive furnishings an added beauty. Upstairs dormitory accommodation is modernised and extended, with new fittings and improved bathrooms.

In the main block one can now foresee the final dignity and charm of the completed quadrangle. It is hoped that friends of the school will attend the opening and public inspection of these buildings on Old Boys' Day, the date of which is to be announced shortly.

(Just as we go to print we learn that the opening is likely to take place on Wednesday, August 25th, on the occasion of the visit by members of the International Educational Conference.)

EXCURSIONS, LECTURES AND ENTERTAINMENTS.

On May 3rd Mr. Engel, a representative of the World Student Christian Confederation, visited the College and gave a talk to the senior boys on some of the subjects on which Dr. Koo, a representative from Geneva, then in Australia, had spoken. Mr. Engel chiefly stressed the fact that, whether English or German, Australian or Chinese, we are all one under Christ, and should try to understand each other's customs.

JUNE, 1937.

On May 5th and 6th several classes were privileged to spend an enjoyable and instructive afternoon at the Gas Works, where the production of gas was shown and explained. Twenty-three tons of Newcastle coal are used every day in the retorts, which are heated by furnaces using coke and producer gas. The gas, thick with tar vapour, is cooled and the tar removed. Next it is "scrubbed" and purified before passing through a meter to the gas holders. Coke, which is used to heat the furnaces and is sold as fuel, ammonia and tar are the by-products from the gas-works. We sincerely thank Mr. Ross, the manager, and also Mr. Thorogood, for showing the parties round and explaining the processes.

We were fortunate to see a number of pictures and lantern slides in the Morrison Hall last term, and we wish to thank those who showed them. Mr. Partridge gave us an informative talk on Central Australia, illustrated with slides. An officer spoke to us candidly of the Air Force and the advisability of joining it, showing us some interesting pictures. Mr. Pratt kindly screened the pictures that he took on his journey round the world. The State Electricity Commission film of Yallourn and the Commission's extensive services was highly instructive.

The film version of Shakespeare's "Romeo and Juliet" was witnessed at the Regent Theatre on Wednesday, June 9th, by the Senior School and several classes of the Preparatory School. The splendid acting of Norma Shearer and Leslie Howard gave this picture a quality above the ordinary and revealed the true power of the screen as a dramatic and educational medium.

As usual, several excursions are being made by the Leaving Geography Class. Of particular interest was a visit to the Returned Soldiers' Woollen Mill. For several typed copies of a resume of the whole process of woollen manufacture we must thank Mr. A. Meakin, who is always eager to further our understanding of Geelong's leading industry.

THE PEGASUS,

House of Guilds.

CRAFT ACTIVITIES.

WITH the House of Guilds starting on its third year, we feel that it is no longer an experiment, but a well established part of the College. This is emphasised by the fact that there are now 132 boys on our roll, while the amount of work produced exceeds that done in any term of 1936. Several boys are becoming competent workers in their selected crafts, new boys are finding out for which craft they are best suited, and as the year goes on they should do more advanced work.

Some members have been doing fairly well in Photography, but greater knowledge and care would improve results; more advantage should be taken of the talks given by Mr. Porter on his visits every second Thursday.

Model aeroplane building has become very popular, and to encourage this section of our activities, another field-day will be conducted early this term.

The collectors were unfortunate in losing last year's very able leader, Mac. Clarke, but have held regular meetings.

The new loom has been in constant use, boys weaving lengths of cloth from which coats are being made.

Our thanks are due to Mr. Charles Champ, an Old Boy, who has kindly presented to the House some very fine, rare, old fire-arms, one of which is a double-barrelled flint-lock. These interesting weapons belonged originally to Mr. Champ's pioneer grandfather, Colonel W. B. N. Champ who arrived in Australia in 1829 and was the first Premier of Tasmania. We are also grateful to Mr. Tom Hawkes who has given a model T Ford car. This has already been a great source of knowledge to engineers, and they greatly appreciate the gift.

The warden is anxious that a still greater number of boys will take the opportunities offered by the House of Guilds during the winter term, and hopes that those who have gained some experience in their crafts will concentrate on an even higher quality of work.

RAMBLERS' GUILD: CHRISTMAS HIKE 1936-37.

On Boxing Day, 1936, a party of College masters, old boys and present boys set out to spend two enjoyable weeks on Wilson's Promontory. The party comprised Mr. B. R. Keith, Mr. C. J. Cooke, Mr. E. B. Lester, Mr. R. E. Radcliffe, L. O. Morgan, A. B. Simson, P. J. C. Stretton, J. C. Anderson and F. J. H. Moreton. On the first day we reached the Yanakie "Desert," where we bivouacked till 4 a.m., when the tide allowed us to drive along the beach to the Darby Chalet. Trips were made to Tongue Point, Corner Inlet and the Vereker Range. While we were on the latter trip Mr. Cooke and P. Stretton, with two pack-horses, made a base camp in Lilly Pilly Gully. From this point we climbed Mt. Latrobe, travelling three miles of creek and mountain-side in two days by map and compass, hacking and pushing our way through dense spear-grass and prickly mimosa in which scrub and rotting saplings were tangled, while innumerable leeches added variety to our sensations. On reaching the summit we did not enjoy the expected view of the whole promontory on account of low-lying clouds which persisted for several days. The return journey was much easier, as we followed the track used in the ascent. We next stayed at Sealers' Cove for three days, then moved our base camp to the mouth of the Tidal River and, with well loaded packs, set out for the lighthouse, where we were hospitably received by the keepers and their families. Three very enjoyable days were spent fishing, walking and watching shipping and lighthouse activities before we covered the 23 miles to the Chalet, obtaining on the way some excellent views from South Peak and the Oberon Saddle. Traversing the beach at midnight, we drove city-wards next day, looking like tramps and feeling like kings.

EASTER HIKE.

DURING the Easter vacation a six day hike was held in the Otways, our party going by truck as far as Crowes, where camp was made in Melba Gully.

Next morning we started off early, proceeding down the gully, but before long we left the river and made our way through bracken and dense, tangled scrub.

Next day we moved to the lighthouse at Cape Otway; as it had been raining, we were glad to get there. The coastal scenery in the rough conditions was magnificent. On Sunday an inspection of the lighthouse was made under the guidance of Mr. Johansen, the head-keeper.

On Monday we continued as far as "Splitter's Hut," and reached Apollo Bay next morning, returning to Geelong by truck.

The following participated in the hike:—Mr. B. R. Keith, Mr. J. H. Campbell, Mr. R. E. Radcliffe, Mr. A. B. Simson, G. Inglis, R. Honeycombe, R. Doig, W. Doig, K. Gough, R. Lyall, G. Henderson, H. Stubbs, C. Ostberg, B. Vanrenen, R. Robinson, A. Turnbull, N. Milne, R. Byrne/ A. Long, K. Kelsall, T. Hawkes, A. Hagger, D. Hope-Johnstone, N. McKinnon, P. Hall.

All members of the party were present or past Collegians.

SNOW SPORTS NEXT SPRING.

For the August vacation the Ramblers, in conjunction with the Ski Club of Victoria, are planning what should be a memorable excursion to Mt. Buller, near Mansfield. Last year a party made this trip for an all too brief week-end, but it is now proposed to spend seven clear days at the club's hut on the summit, with three additional days for travelling.

Preparatory School Notes.

HAVING recovered from the shock of finding ourselves back at work after the long vacation, we turned our attention to electing the School Captain. This honour fell to W. Watkins, who we feel will ably carry on the good work of those who have gone before him. We were pleased to welcome a larger number of new boys this year and we trust that their stay with us, before passing to the Senior School, will be a pleasant one.

JUNE, 1937.

The Swimming Sports were held towards the end of March when a very fair number of boys tried for the coveted Championship. This was eventually won by D. Hope-Johnstone to whom we offer our congratulations.

Cricket occupied a great part of the first term and the usual round of matches was played. The Magpies, very ably led by Watkins, proved the victors in this series. The Senior team and an Under-age team played matches against Bostock House and junior teams from the Senior School.

A large number of boys has shown very keen interest in Tennis and some promising young players have been noticed amongst them. We are hoping that one of these days an enthusiastic old boy will give us a court of our very own.

A very interesting happening was our visit to the Wool Stores in Geelong, where we were privileged to see buyers of different nationalities at work examining the wool. This was very helpful, as it gave us a better understanding of what was taking place when, later in the day, we visited the actual sales.

The library has been used much more freely and a record number of books has been borrowed. We hope that this good beginning will mean that the shelves will be practically empty during this Winter term.

The House of Guilds still proves to be a great centre of attraction for boys in their spare time. The many crafts now open to them have meant that practically every boy in the school has some particular interest.

We were pleased to welcome to our staff Mr. J. I. Home, B.A., and we trust that his stay with us will be a pleasant and beneficial one to all concerned.

Kindergarten Notes.

THE first term passed quickly, filled with the happy activities of a band of small boys. Some of the many interests have been in gardening, the boys now having their own plots; a boat Project, which has had to be developed into a Transport Project to cope with the widening interest of the boys; and the introduction of a Percussion Band. This, together with musical appreciation lessons, forms a very happy part of the boys' work.

We have also to thank Mrs. Bechervaise for her letters and a number of interesting Coronation pictures she has sent us.

The Kindergarten, with its happy atmosphere and charming surroundings, a true "garden of children/" has proved so popular that the number of pupils has increased, and the College Council has seen the need of further cloak-room accommodation, which is now being provided.

Music Notes.

DURING the first term five meetings of the Music Club were held under the direction of Mr. Shepherd, and attracted large and enthusiastic audiences of music lovers. The Committee hopes that this term will see an increase in the attendance of boys. Included in the extensive range of delightful music heard were piano solos played by Mr. Shepherd and Mr. Smith from works of Chopin, Liszt, Rubinstein, Beethoven, Bach, Brahms, Schumann, Ireland, Bridge, Schutt and Albeniz—Godowsky. Vocal items were contributed by Mr. Lester from works of Handel, Scott, Somervell and Farrer; and numerous recordings were played of selected instrumental and vocal music.

Two enjoyable concerts were held on Tuesday afternoons. At the first Miss Nance Osborne and Mr. Leslie Barklam (flautist) were the artists, and at the second Mr. Lester and Mr. Howard Brown (violinist), who is to leave shortly to further his studies under Fritz Kreisler.

The Glee Club is at present rehearsing a comic operetta entitled "Once aboard the Luger," and judging by the large and enthusiastic attendance at each rehearsal, the production should prove an outstanding success.

The Kindergarten, under the direction of Mr. Smith, is showing considerable musical talent, while the Percussion Band is making splendid progress.

With the opening of the House of Music this term, conditions will be greatly improved for the music students, who will be ensured absolute quietness and comfort while practising.

Library Notes.

NOT least in the recent alterations at the College is that which has been made in the Library. Where previously there existed two distinct departments—the Lending Library and Reading Room, and the Reference Library—now the one room houses both divisions, and boys can sit in comfort and either read general literature or consult Reference Books. The old fittings from the Morrison Library have been incorporated into the Reading Room, extra shelves have been added and a gas fire installed, the whole effect being one of comfort and utility. It is to be hoped that all boys will make use of these facilities, and find help in their work and leisure hours from the opportunities now offered.

The divisions of the Reference Library include books on English Language and Literature, French, History, Geography and General works of interest, the Science Library, European History and Economic reference books still being housed in the Science Laboratory and the Sixth Form Room. In addition there are in the general section—magazines, English publications and several volumes of collected stories, myths, etc.

Still it is to be regretted that there are yet many boys who have not made the full use of all that is placed at their disposal. So many cannot go beyond one author. So many fear to try something new. There seems to be a feeling that, because an author is one of a few years ago, his work cannot be of interest but must, of necessity, be old fashioned, or out of date. How many of those who contribute to the Library have ever read a novel of Dickens, Jerome, or Mark Twain, to take three authors at random? And so, in an endeavour to overcome this prejudice, it is suggested that a short meeting for those interested in books and authors be held this term in the library at dinner time, each week, lasting for not more than fifteen to twenty minutes. At these meetings it is planned that some boy will speak on either a certain author, or a certain book, which he wishes to bring before the notice of others, and that by this means a wider sphere of reading will be unfolded to many, and an interest in other books than those dealing with mystery or crime be awakened in others. Further particulars of this scheme will, no doubt, be known before this issue of the "Pegasus"—all that is needed will be the hearty co-operation of those interested in such an idea. But remember this, that such a step is not an attempt to load on to boys something useless or unwanted, but an endeavour to induce boys to take an interest in wide reading through the good offices of the boys themselves.

Shortly a new supply of books will be available in the lending section, and again we ask all borrowers to look after their own property. Last term there was a great carelessness apparent with the consequence that several volumes are now missing. Appended is a list of missing books, and any information about them, or the return of the same, will be gladly welcomed.

Before closing, let a word of thanks be accorded to our two hard working librarians, Feddersen and Callander, to whose good services is owed much of the success of the Library.

Numbers of missing books:—G.23, H.28, S.23, W.29, W.9.

Cadet Corps Notes.

THIS year the number of new cadets was very satisfactory and the total strength of the corps is now J20. Two public parades were held during the term—on Anzac Day, and on May 12th at a special Trooping of the Regimental Colour to celebrate the Coronation. The latter event was a notable one which must be long remembered by those who took part. Five guards were present, representatives from the 23rd/21st battalion, and the Geelong College and Geelong Grammar School cadet corps. The proceedings were witnessed by a large gathering and the marching of the College guard was a credit to all concerned. At the conclusion, Lieut. Col. A. H. Godfrey spoke a few words of thanks and congratulation to the boys.

Examinations for N.C.O.'s were held early in the first term and provisional appointments made. C.S.M, Moreton has been promoted to the rank of Cadet Lieutenant.

This term senior boys will spend considerable time on a course of tactical exercises in the open country.

The Coronation.

GEELONG College ranged itself alongside other schools of Victoria and the British Empire in celebrating the Coronation of Their Majesties King George VI and Queen Elizabeth. The special coronation medal was presented to every pupil and will remain a treasured souvenir of a great occasion.

On Coronation Day, May 12th, the form of morning assembly was suited to the occasion, the outstanding feature being a stirring address by Mr. C. F. Whorwell, who recently arrived from the Motherland. Besides giving an interesting account of the Coronation Ceremony, the speaker stated that there is to-day a grim struggle going on between Democracy and Freedom on the one hand, and Dictatorship and Tyranny on the other. The British Commonwealth of Nations is the greatest force on the side of individual rights, and the Crown is the supreme symbol of the unity of this Commonwealth. It is good that there are such occasions as the Coronation on which we can restate our firm belief in Democracy and our unswerving loyalty to the Empire.

In the afternoon the whole School was present at the Trooping of the Colour, at Kardinia Park, the College Cadet Corps taking part.

SPORT.

Cricket Notes.

The results of this year's Public School matches were disappointing. The team lacked a player of dominating influence either as a batsman or as a bowler. Our batsmen found the opposing bowlers a class above their ability, and were too inconsistent to be very effective. With the exception of T. G. Inglis, who from 137 overs obtained 23 wickets at an average of 18.6 runs, our bowlers also were below standard. Generally the fielding was good despite some gruelling days spent in the field, Inglis, O'Connor, Gough, Lamb and Sutherland being outstanding.

J. Calhoun, J. Cooper, J. Gough, R. O'Connor and W. Johnstone were the only batsmen to average double figures, Cooper with 54 not out making the highest individual score. Johnstone, until injured in the Melbourne Grammar game, was an efficient wicket keeper, whilst Lamb ably filled the position as his substitute.

At practice the team showed a promise that was not fulfilled in matches where, at times, signs of an inferiority complex were in evidence. The results of the House Matches clearly indicated that our batsmen were quite capable of good scores, some making centuries, but besides meeting weaker bowling, the boys entered these matches with the confidence so lacking in their inter-school games.

GEELONG COLLEGE v. XAVIER COLLEGE.

Played at the College on March 5th and 6th.

In this match, College won the toss and batted in good weather. The first few wickets went very easily until Watson and Thomas added a few to our score at a faster rate than previously. Here there was a change of bowling and Burchell, obtaining three wickets, hastened the end of the innings.

Xavier opened with Cohen and M. Starr. The first three wickets fell quickly to Watson and Lamb. However, the College score was soon passed, changes in bowlers not making much difference, the scoring being rapid. After the dismissal of Rice, the wickets fell more quickly.

College scored 0/27 before an appeal against the light stopped play. In the morning a light rain had fallen, and College scored freely. Cooper batted well, but then four wickets fell at 73. After this, Inglis and Thomas hit out, but did not last long. The last few wickets collapsed before Crosbie and Burchell, the latter finishing with 7/31 for the match.

Xavier went in and Cohen batted freely, so that the 20 required to win were soon made.

GEELONG COLLEGE v. GEELONG GRAMMAR SCHOOL.

Played at the College on March 12th and 13th.

The weather for the match against Geelong Grammar School was ideal. College won the toss and batted, but were soon in difficulties. The first three wickets fell to Brookes, a medium-paced swing bowler, and a rot set in until Dennis and O'Connor added 12 and 14 respectively, both batting confidently. The scoring was very slow, the 86 runs taking 130 minutes.

From the start Grammar scored freely. Colman's attractive 94, made in under two hours, included seven fours. Bowling changes did not greatly hinder Grammar's rate of scoring and 281 were made in 250 minutes.

On Saturday Grammar continued to score rapidly, Richardson and Brookes batting very soundly. Later, however, five wickets fell for 6 runs.

College did better in the second innings, but could not save the game. Cooper and Watson added over 50 for the third wicket, and then the wickets fell steadily to Grammar's varied attack, nine bowlers taking a turn at the crease.

GEELONG COLLEGE v. WESLEY COLLEGE.

Played at the College on March 19th and 20th.

For this match the weather was far from perfect. Wesley won the toss and sent College in, but no batsman was able to put up much opposition until Johnstone started to score confidently. He went on with O'Connor to add 38 runs for the sixth wicket, but the side was out for 87 before dinner.

Wesley opened after dinner and went well till the score reached 62. The sun coming out strongly, several wickets then fell for a few runs, and it appeared that College might lead on the first innings, but Maddock and Thomas added more than 20 each. The Wesley score was made in 135 minutes.

Calhoun and Gough opened our second innings, but the wickets again fell easily until Johnstone and Calhoun contributed a partnership of 55 runs. On the resumption on Saturday, the side collapsed after Johnstone and Calhoun had gone.

Wesley came in with 52 to make to win. They scored easily, and after lunch passed this score with five wickets in hand.

GEELONG COLLEGE v. MELBOURNE GRAMMAR SCHOOL.

Played at M.G.S. on April 2nd and 3rd.

Melbourne won the toss and sent College in on a very fast wicket. Calhoun and Gough opened to the bowling of Newton and Galbraith. The first two wickets went cheaply but Gough and Inglis scored well. Johnstone was hit on the knuckles, when at 3. He retired, but came out later to make 19. No one else made a stand and the last five wickets fell to Long, a slow leg-break bowler.

Field and Pearson opened for M.G.S. against the bowling of Cook and Watson. The score mounted quickly, five batsmen scoring over 60 runs, Austin reaching the century. Changes of bowling made little difference. Finally Thomas obtained a majority of wickets with his slows.

In the next innings the almost impossible task was faced of making 454 runs to draw level. The first five wickets went quickly till Calhoun and Cooper, then Calhoun and O'Connor, made a stand, Dowsley, Long and Newton were the most successful bowlers,

GEELONG COLLEGE v. SCOTCH COLLEGE.

Played at Scotch on April 9th and 10th.

Geelong won the toss and sent Scotch in on a tricky wicket. McDougall and Collie opened to the bowling of Watson and Inglis. Several chances were missed early. A valuable score was made by Ashton and McDougall, but the batting was slow. Morris followed with a steady century. Inglis bowled patiently and well, and Watson was also in form.

The College opened at about a quarter to six with the light failing quickly. With the score 1 for 0, the second appeal against the light was upheld. Next day the wickets fell cheaply till Gough and O'Connor made a temporary stand.

College were sent in again with Thomas and Gough opening. They were soon dismissed, but useful partnerships were made by Calhoun and Inglis, and later by Cooper and Lamb. Scotch's success in both of the College innings was largely due to Bremner's excellent wicket keeping.

Rowing Notes.

ALTHOUGH the rowing club had a large membership this year, the interest was not as keen as it might have been. Four eights were again formed, but on some nights there were not enough down to fill three. The second scull has been repaired, and proved very popular.

Mr. C. Saleh coached both the first and second eights this year, in order to get to know those who may constitute next year's crew.

Our thanks are due to Mr. Saleh and to Mr. A. N. Shannon, who coached the thirds and does so much for the rowing club; also to Mr. Lambie for coaching the fourths, and Mr. R. E. Reid for his interest in the crew and for placing his car at the service of the coach.

Second and Third Eights' Boat Races.

THE annual races against Geelong Grammar School were held over the half-mile course, on Friday, May 7th. There was a strong westerly wind blowing, making starting difficult. The College crews were:—

SECOND EIGHT.

T. J. Forsyth (bow), 10.10; G. Roope (2), 10.1; B. D. Shaw (3), 10.2; R. Brown (4), 10.2; M. Crawcour (5), 11.12; I. H. Silke (6), 11.12; W. M. Shaw (7), 9.12; B. C. McKenzie (stroke), 9.7; G. McMaster (cox), 7.7. Average weight 10.7.

THIRD EIGHT.

S. Vanrenen (bow), 10.3; J. Holland (2), 9.0; J. Ferguson (3), 9.5; N. Collis (4), 10.0; A. L. Matheson (5), 15.0; K. L. Douglas (6), 11.2; W. H. Steel (7), 10.4; I. A. Surplice (stroke), 10.7; R. Lyall (cox), 6.5J. Average weight 10.10.

In the Second Eights' race, Grammar had centre station, College the north. After a difficult start, College led for some distance, but Grammar came level at the mills and went on well to win by a length.

In the Third Eights' race, Grammar went ahead at the start, but were held until the mills, when they drew away and had no difficulty in winning by two lengths.

Once more we congratulate the Grammar School on their double win, the fourth in succession.

Head of the River.

THIS event was held on the Yarra, on Thursday and Friday, May 13th and 14th. Since the year began, the College crew had been training hard. They were again coached by Mr. C. G. Saleh who formed them into one of the best crews we have had, though not as heavy as last year's winners. The crew were:—T. M. Collins (bow), 10.8; R. H. A. Wettenhall (2), 10.0; K. S. McDowall (3), 10.10; T. T. Laidlaw

(4), 11.6; J. A. Forbes (5), 12.5; F. J. H. Moreton (6), 11.13; I. H. McPherson (7), 11.6; T. H. Kelsall (stroke), 10.12; I. S. Buchanan (cox), 8.0. Average weight—list. 21bs.

The heats were decided on Thursday, May 13th. It was a beautiful day with a slight northerly breeze, conditions being ideal for rowing.

In the first heat Wesley College met Geelong Grammar School in the closest race of the day. Wesley drew ahead at the start; Grammar steadily came up after the quarter mile, but Wesley responded well and won by a canvas.

College met Xavier in the second heat. It was generally expected that this race would decide the winner of the final. Xavier led from the start and managed to keep the lead despite all College efforts, winning by three quarters of a length.

In the third heat, Scotch College met Melbourne Grammar School. Grammar led from the start with Scotch close behind, but at the finish they drew away and won by over two lengths.

The weather for the final was not so pleasant, for there was a strong wind blowing up the course. Melbourne Grammar took the lead to the bend, but against the wind Xavier drew ahead and won from Wesley by two lengths. The victorious Xavier crew was:— J. F. McDavitt (bow), J. F. Fallon (2), G. O. C. O'Day (3), D. J. Breheny (4), J. J. O'Brien (5), P. J. Lachal (6), J. H. Marron (7), J. J. Bourke (stroke), K. L. McEncroe (cox). Coach Mr. Marcus Burke.

The College crew must be congratulated on a very fine performance. To quote a metropolitan sporting writer "If there are to be regrets about such a race, let me say that it was that Geelong College—second best crew in the race, I consider—had to face Xavier in a heat. These crews would have made a magnificent final."

However, there is no doubt that the best crew won, and we should like to congratulate Xavier on a splendid win, their first since 1929.

I.

On hostile cliffs the early light fell grey,
 The rocks appeared as sentries, dark and grim;
 The troopships, steaming in across the bay,
 Appeared, to hidden foe, yet vague and dim.

Gallipoli, the tragic scene, was laid:
 Our soldiers saw the task which was ahead;
 They understood their orders and obeyed.
 —Now pay we humble tribute to our dead.

Australia honours those, upon this day,
 Who willingly gave up their lives and fought;
 Their names will live when monuments decay,
 Great monuments of soulless granite wrought.

Many the years since that conflict on Mediterranean shore,
 'Mid Death's livid show'r in the moonlight, for right as they knew it to be!
 Who dreamed then of grave or glory? They fought by the manhood within them,

True to themselves and their fellows, heedless of name or degree.

Build them a flimsy cenotaph, fashion a temple of marble!
 Struggle for precedence, bask in hypocrisy's wordy display!
 Bind up the brain of the people and say "You shall think as we do!"
 —Is this the Spirit of Anzac, or the spirit of Anzac Day?

A ghostly laughter shivers to the frosty April sky,
 But, deep in the heart of a nation, Mem'ry shall never die.

To Our Car.

(A tyreless model "T" Ford tourer has just been presented to the House of Guilds Engineers, and now reposes on four drawers with its wheels off the ground.)

Oh god of fire and fury,
 Our old "T"-model touroy!
     Whose roarings sound
     For miles around,
 Like lions in a zoory.

To your donor we say "Thank you!"
 And, as we prime and crank you,
     'Tis but your ire
     If you backfire:
 We can't have fed or drank you!

You've lost your registration;
 We do not know your nation;
     You came to us
     As "Henry's bus";
 (The Zephyr's a relation).

You good old predecessor
 Of fast cars, we'll say "Yessir,
     You've done your bit,
     Now tyreless sit
 On drawers from kitchen dresser!"

Your tyres are in absentia,
 And somebody has sentia;
     But as a toy,
     You'll be a joy
 To boys for whom they mentia.

To an Examination.

(After Shelley's "Time.")

Unfathomable task! whose questions, posed
 Before the dreamy eyes of candidates,
 Stir up the souls and mem'ries. Quills are raised.
 Take heed, ye Gods of Wisdom, on whom the Fates
 Your meed of fortune or ill-luck suspend!
 Mark on the vital parchment mystic signs,
 Which mean a pass or black despair for those
 That, sick at heart, await what Time assigns.
     Who thee enjoys, I ask,
 Unfathomable task?

Bells direct our path each day;
     We work, or play.
 Bells bring us in to meals,
 They bid us rise or go to bed.
     It gives a head-
     Ache when I muse on it.
 They tell us when to sit and think,
     To waste good ink,
 When in the lab. to make a stink;
     And when to eat
     The bread or meat;
     When to exert the power
 To comb our hair or have a shower;
     And when———
     There goes another bell!
 What more to tell?

I. The Lass of Lome.

There was a maiden, young and fair,
     Who lived in lovely Lome.
 For the lads she did not care,
     But treated them with scorn.

 There was a lad from Campbell-town,
     Who came one day to woo her.
 She gave him such a look and frown
     That he did not pursue her.

 He turned his horse and rode away,
     Determined to forget;
 But if he's found a lass as sweet,
     I haven't heard as yet.

II. Harvest Time.

It was the early time of day,
     When the men were carting in the hay.
 The ears of corn were wet with dew,
     And the pale light of dawn was filtering through.
 The birds were in the homestead trees,
     Singing and singing with delicate ease.

The Vision Vivid.

I DREAMED the other night that the "Pegasus" was printed and produced at the College by boys with no interest in lessons, music, the House of Guilds, the O.T.C., bullying, or any other sport. Awaking in a feverish perspiration, I recorded the opening article before the vision mercifully faded:—

It may seem as a shock to our readers when we announce that the Pegasus, is to be a holy produce of boys of the College in assembly one day the principle gave out the committee:— e.g. N.Good (7 stone 15lbs, honorary secretary; I. ### Mr. Henderson writes from England.

JUST in time for inclusion in this issue comes a cheery letter from Mr. Henderson, who is at Willaston School, Nantwich, Cheshire, England, on a year's exchange with Mr. Whorwell. The following extracts will be of interest to all Collegians:—

17th May, 1937.

The Editor of "The Pegasus,"

Dear Sir,

Greetings to all at the College. I am not quite sure how far away it is. Sometimes it seems just round the corner, at other times I feel as if I could have been there only in some previous incarnation, but I suppose one could experience similar sensations on a week-end visit to Barwon Heads.

I will not attempt to bore you with an account of a quite uneventful journey to England, but wish to mention two outstanding observations. The first is the new University at Crawley, Western Australia. No one should miss seeing the perfect harmony of its architecture with a natural Australian setting. The second was the change in Port Said since I first saw it during the war. Then it was my first glimpse of the East, now from the sea it looks more like the nearer suburbs of Port Phillip Bay. The new European district quite overshadows the old, dirty native city. Though the "touts" are still there it is obviously only a matter of time until they also die out. These changes are certainly for the better, and in any case the Eastern atmosphere of Port Said was mostly sham.

There are some things at Willaston that you would envy: its gymnasium, its swimming bath with heated water, its museum, its library, its chapel and, I think, its playing fields. In fact, Willaston has only one fault, it has too few boys. You regard the College as a small school, but imagine a school with about fifty boys, and try to realise that its problems are your problems in a much more acute form. There is for example practically no selection for its senior teams, and like the College it makes up for this in courage and keenness, so that I actually saw them win three Rucker matches, and also saw them soundly beaten without shame or despair. In school the proportion of misfits is naturally considerable, for the luxury of dividing classes and having alternative subjects is not to be thought of. The boys made me very welcome and I have found them very likeable and in no essential respect different from Australian boys. Their sense of proportion is much the same, they are open and easy mannered, adventurous and resourceful. Their virtues are your virtues and their faults are your faults. The same might be said about their enthusiasms and their lack thereof, and you would be glad to hear how much row can be made by a whole school of about thirty boys round the touch line of a Rugger match.

Apart from school altogether I have enjoyed England in spite of the wettest three months (January to March) for 211 years, which is as far back as the records go. But not even the bad weather—and it was vile—can mask the beauty of the English country-side. When the history of this planet is finally written I hope it will be recorded that in the medium of trees and hedgerows any Englishman is an artist and a genius. Nothing else but national genius can account for the universal rightness of landscapes in England. In the medium of brick, Englishmen are most unhappy. In villages their skill with greenery makes their houses charming, but in many towns they create weariness and desolation. One curious coincidence in the Cheshire villages is the familiarity of their names—Kelsall, Moreton, Wettenhall, Stretton.

Before I go further, let me record that I do not agree with a common Australian opinion that the English people are stand-offish or hard to approach. My own experience has been directly opposite. I have found them easy, sympathetic, communicative, hospitable and friendly.

We had a holiday of nearly four weeks between Easter and Summer Terms, and most of it we spent in Scotland. The weather was most unkind and the visibility particularly poor. There were nevertheless a few really beautiful days and we were lucky enough to have chosen the very best for a visit to St. Andrews . . . You would like to hear how we lunched with Iain Pattison and Jock Watson to our mutual joy. Many ears in Geelong must have tingled that day! Proud was I to see the College represented by two such young men. Both are doing very well, and both—as each volunteered about the other as soon as he was out of hearing—are extremely popular.

We are again hard at work, the school sports are over in fine weather—most successful! There is certainly a grand spirit at Willaston. For the past few days I have taken every possible class out in the open air; it is pleasant in the sun and we avoid the smells of a lab. which has no fume cupboard!

I have had great reports of the College from Mr. Whorwell, and now I await news of the Boat Race.

Good luck to all!

T. HENDERSON.

75th Anniversary Presentation Oval.

The Committee of the Old Collegians' Association wish to express thanks to those Old Boys who have subscribed to the Birthday Oval Fund. They also wish to remind those who have not already sent in their subscriptions that, to liquidate the amount outstanding, further contributions are required. To meet the wishes of the cricket coach and your old friend "Teddy," two separate turf practice wickets were added to the contract; these, together with the necessary extensions to the water service, increased the original estimate, but the Committee felt that it would make the oval much more complete to have this work carried out at once.

It is earnestly desired that those who have so far overlooked the matter should send in their subscriptions to the Hon. Secretary, Old Collegians' Association, No. 4 James Street, as soon as possible, so that the Oval Account may be settled and interest on overdraft avoided.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

In our last issue we appealed for reports of Old Boys' activities, hoping that a large number of brief notes might make the "Pegasus" more powerful in holding Collegians together. So far it appears that some cannot be enticed, on the date suggested or on any other, into sending along the local news, but we are pleased to print an unusually large group of references in this issue. Thanks to all who have contributed! While not apologising for any omissions, we shall be glad to repair them if notified in time for the December number.

Old Collegians would be wise to impress upon their Members of Parliament the urgent necessity to support the Bill for the protection of their School Badges or Colours to prevent their being copied.

We are tired of hearing the cry "It is a pity we have not got legislation to prevent this!" Now is your chance! The Executive have been concentrating for many months on this Bill—see your district Member of Parliament and impress upon him the urgency for his support of such an enactment next Session.

A good gathering is expected this year for the Annual Re-Union Dinner, in Sydney. Old Collegians are advised to get in touch with H. A. Maclean, Wairoonga, or with L. E. Reid, c/o. Country Producers' Selling Co. Ltd., 26-30 Bridge Street, Sydney.

A list of sporting fixtures for the remainder of the year is published elsewhere. It will be noticed that the School Sports are being held on Saturday, October 16th, and it is hoped that this arrangement will encourage bigger fields in the Old Boys' events.

Attention is drawn to references in this issue to the building improvements and additions at the College. The opening ceremony and general inspection will probably take place on Old Boys' Day, the date and details of which will be posted to members.

All Old Collegians who are also Old Boys of Glamorgan Preparatory School will be interested to know that Miss McComas is celebrating her Jubilee as Head Mistress early this term. It is thought that the occasion should be fittingly observed, and those interested may communicate with Norman Wettenhall, "Aberfeldie," Toorak Rd., Toorak, S.E. 2.

OBITUARY.

Charles Simson (1877) passed away at Mount Gambier, on 9th March, 1937. During his life he had followed closely the interests of Geelong College, whilst making a success of wool growing and sheep breeding on his Roseneath Station, near Casterton. Always a liberal supporter of every progressive school movement, he sent his son Eric as a pupil in 1905, who in turn placed his own son, Douglas, in 1926, one of the many third generation boys of that period.

S. J. Jacobs (1869) died on 4th January, 1937, at his home in Adelaide. Always taking a very live interest in the College, he sent his two sons in 1903; the elder, M. C. Jacobs, died in 1915, while his brother, R. E. Jacobs, still carries on the business of his late father in Adelaide. The late S. J. Jacobs never forgot the old school, and during his whole life time was a liberal supporter to every progressive movement. He recently celebrated his eightieth anniversary.

Herbert James McGuffie, of Neutral Bay, Sydney, passed away on May 1 at the age of 32 years. He left the College in 1921 and had been with the National Bank of Australia.

Leslie Norman Hurst died suddenly at Geelong on March 11. He was on active service during the war, being seriously wounded on Gallipoli. Later he played a prominent part in the activities of the Geelong branch of the Returned Soldiers' Club. His loss is mourned by his widow and three daughters.

With the passing of James Armstrong Reid on March nth, at his home in Murrumbeena, the College lost a very keen supporter and one of the oldest Old Boys. Born at "Woodbourne," Meredith, in 1856, Mr. Reid was the second son of the late W. J. Reid of "Pineville," Geelong. With his elder brother, the late J. I. Reid, he attended the College in 1866, leaving in the early seventies to join his family at "Yancannia," N.S.W. While at school he played football with the College and the Geelong Football Club. In 1890 Mr. Reid visited Scotland and married Mary Clark Dickson. On his return he continued his pastoral activities in various States, first in association with his brothers, and later with his sons. Before his death his three sons and one grandson had been educated at the College. He leaves a widow and two sons, G. C. D. Reid and J. A. Reid.

Old Boys were grieved to learn of the death of Mr. E. A. McDonald, formerly Mayor of Geelong, whose four sons—Allan, Colin, Stuart and Gordon were well known to Collegian contemporaries through a period of nearly twenty years.

Old Boys express sympathy to Rev. Charles E. O. Keays and his family, the Manse, Deniliquin, on learning of the death of his beloved wife.

The Ormond Letter.

Dear Collegians,

The new year as usual brought its changes and first term in Ormond found us without several Old Collegians who had been prominent during the last few years. Those who have gone down are J. D. Hicks (1930), N. S. Shannon (1931), A. J. McAdam (1931), J. H. Coto (1931), D. G. Duffy (1932), R. M. Hamilton (1933), and L. Young (1933). Of these "Doc." Hicks obtained his M.B., B.S., and is now in residence at the Melbourne Hospital, while Niel Shannon graduated as Bachelor of Electrical Engineering. John Coto, Don. Duffy and Max. Hamilton are continuing their University courses, while Leo. Young has joined the company of the Russian Ballet which was recently in Melbourne.

In place of those who have gone we have to welcome ten newcomers:—D. MacKay, A. E. Piper, D. Duffy, G. Hicks, H. Ramsay, W. MacGregor, R. Blackwood, E. French, L. Errey and A. W. Douglas. Such a large number is unusual, but we hope the school will continue to as well represented among the freshmen in the future.

Apart from the gaieties of Commencement Week, this term has been taken up with cricket, rowing, athletics and, perhaps, a little work. The Old Collegians in the cricket team were Jim Young (vice-captain), Don. Watson, Albert Piper and Geoff. Hicks. Unfortunately, despite our expectations, we were narrowly defeated in the final by Newman, who thus continue their series of victories.

On the river, the school was represented in the Ormond first boat by Pat. Wood, Graham McKenzie, Ken. Morris and Adrian Douglas. In this event we were more successful and retained the Higgins trophy which Ormond has held for the past four years. In addition Bruce Kennedy, Jack Simpson, Hugh Ramsay and Ron. Blackwood represented Ormond in the Second Eight.

The competition for the Athletics Shield was very closely contested between Newman and Ormond, Newman finally winning on the last event of the day by one point. Lloyd Morgan was the only Old Collegian in our team.

Doug. Adam has been awarded a half-blue for Rugby.

For the second year, Pat. Wood has the honour of being President of the Students' Club. We congratulate him, likewise Don. Watson on his election to the General Committee.

And now we look forward to the winter term—a lot of steady work, various functions such as the Ormond Play and Ball, and, of course, the inter-collegiate football. In this we expect the school to be as well represented as ever, and we are again hoping to break the long run of Newman successes.

Best of wishes for the coming term, ORMOND.

(For some years Leo. Young has contributed the Ormond news with characteristic enthusiasm and reliability. He has earned our heartfelt thanks, and all his friends wish him success in the career of his choice. His successor is Graham McKenzie, who has modestly forgotten to mention that he stroked the successful Ormond crew and also rowed for Melbourne in the Inter-Varsity Boat-race at Brisbane.)

OLD BOYS' EXPERIENCES ABROAD.

Two former schoolmates at Geelong College met in London recently. They were Stephen ("John") Pidgeon, second officer of the British steamer "Cisca," and Harrington J. Brownhill, formerly of the "Geelong Advertiser," but now of the "Adelaide Advertiser" staff, who travelled to England via W.A., China and the Trans-Siberian railway. Both have written interesting accounts of their experiences, some excerpts from which we are pleased to quote:—

Tension in Italy.

John Pidgeon writes as follows:—

It has certainly opened my eyes seeing Italy as she really is. The feeling against Mussolini is extremely strong, and everyone I have managed to speak to on the quiet, has told me that they will be glad to see the last of II Duce. One man went so far as to say that he wished England would take Italy and turn it into an English colony, so that they might have a little happiness.

There is an outward appearance of prosperity, and the official classes are fairly well off, but among the workers the poverty is very great, and actual starvation apparent. Everyone is very much afraid, and one dare not mention Mussolini by name in public. He is known everywhere as "Mr. Smith," and always referred to as such. In my opinion it only needs a spark to cause the people to turn and rend him. The sanctions have hit them much harder than one is led to imagine, and if it had been possible to enforce them completely, they would very soon have had the desired result.

The Spanish Conflict.

We had no trouble from the Spanish warships coming home, except that the "Canarias" came upon us from astern at dawn, and suddenly put her search-lights on us, giving me a start, as of course she was without lights, and I had not seen her. She kept pace with us until daylight, and then steered off without signalling.

Two nights later I witnessed the shelling of Ceuta. About 1 a.m. I began to see strange flickerings and flashes on the western horizon, and soon realised that it was a bombardment. This continued for about 20 minutes, and then stopped abruptly. About an hour afterwards I suddenly became aware of a flickering white blotch close on the starboard bow, which I realised was the bow wave of a vessel travelling at high speed. This was evidently one of the vessels which did the shelling. The captain scoffed at my story till we heard that night of the shelling on the wireless, when it was confirmed.

London's Vastness.

Harrington Brownhill writes of the Heart of the Empire:—

You never come to the end of this city. It's most amazing. You come to a place like Piccadilly Circus, and in the middle of the traffic maelstrom you think this must be the centre of London—this is the peak. But you walk on again, and there it is all over again at Oxford Circus, and beyond that at Bond Street and

JUNE, 1937.

Marble Arch. Go in the other direction and you strike Trafalgar Square and Charing Cross and Westminster and Whitehall. Yesterday I found that with the exception of Fleet Street, I had never really been in the city proper. I walked up Ludgate Hill and found myself in another vast metropolis, and more still beyond it.

I can't explain the effect the place has. You don't feel you are in England. York and Tunbridge Wells and places like that seem just as remote and unfamiliar here as they did in Geelong. You never hear of them. All around is London, and it just goes on and on. It's a continent. One Melbourne man told me that when he first arrived it looked like a village after New York, and he was disappointed, but after a few days the appalling vastness of the place dawned on him, and it made New York seem like a film set. There are thousands of people—Cockneys, who have lived in London all their lives and never been in Oxford Circus, and thousands of others who have never been in Stepney.

On Friday I dropped in at St. Paul's, Christopher Wren's piece de resistance. A St. Michael and St. George memorial service was on. The huge place was packed. The band of the Irish Guards was somewhere lost in the crowd. They played Handel's Dead March. It was magnificent. Funny thing is that there are dozens of shows like this going on in London every day, each attended by thousands of people, while thousands of others don't even know they are on. They're not news. There's not room for them in the papers.

Old Boys' Notes.

We have reports of the doings of many of the newer Old Boys and hope that any omissions will be pointed out. Besides those mentioned in the Ormond Letter, A. R. Rix is studying commerce as an extra-Collegiate. John Collocott is attending the North Sydney Boys' High School, and N. C. Reid is doing Engineering at the Melbourne Technical College. Several are in banks:—C. Kirkwood and G. Hedley at the Commonwealth, Geelong; W. E. Baker, National, Warrnambool; R. B. Payne, National, Geelong; D. M. Thomas, N.S.W., Geelong; R. L. Uren, Union, Geelong; D. I. Westland, N.S.W., Kerang; J. F. Anderson, Willaura. K. C. Brumley and E. I. Johnson are with Myer's, Melbourne. S. I. Du Ve, Eric and Tom Mann and J. C. Anderson are at the Gordon Institute of Technology, Geelong, while N. S. Westland and Henry Clarke are at Dookie. Frank Reid has joined the staff of Coles', Adelaide, and Arthur Simson is in Dalgety's, Colac. A. W. Tippett is with Victorian Master Butchers' Suppliers, North Melbourne. George Lance is at present in England. F. M. Harrison may be found at Australian Estates Co. Ltd., William Street, Melbourne. J. D. H. Cook is doing surveying in Geelong.

Ralph Laidlaw is jackerooing at "Coornong," Narrandera, Jack Bartlett in business in Colac, and Jack Crawcour studying Law at Melbourne.

Best wishes to all these young men on the lower rungs of life's ladder! We trust that the "Pegasus" may help to preserve the friendships they formed at the College.

At the Annual Boat Race Dinner of the Wimmera Old Public School Boys' Association, at Dimboola, the following Old Geelong Collegians were present:—Dr. F. A. Bouvier, Keith Oldfield, Stan. Illingworth, Rae. Bennett, Will. Ord and A. V. M. Rankin (Hon. Sec).

At the annual dinner of the Victorian Old Public Schoolboys' Association, Hamilton, at Boatrace time, Geelong College was represented by R. Bryant, J. Bromell, D. T. H. Fenton, A. R. Herald, W. Moodie, I. Milne, D. McKellar, J. W. Robertson, H. D. Sutherland, M. T. Wilkinson and H. Young.

The Secretary visited Mildura at Easter, making contact with many Old Boys. Alex. Milne was busily engaged on his citrus orchard, and A. R. Cutts just finishing work on his vineyard. Dr. Wilfred Macmillan acted the generous guide and host, placing himself, his happy home, and his car at the disposal of the visitors. J. K. Spalding was absent on a fishing expedition and others were away for the holidays.

Senator Frank Guthrie sailed during March, chosen as one of three Australian Delegates to attend the Coronation functions in London. With his usual thoroughness he will bring before the British people details of the great value of our woollen industries, and no doubt further the best interests of Australia during his tour.

Ken. Morris spent the long University vacation on a trip to the East Indies and Japan as a member of the crew of a Norwegian oil tanker.

J. L. Macalister, who is doing a commercial flying course, landed at Geelong twice during the first term and visited the College, accompanied on the second occasion by C. H. Sloane. The same Jack Macalister is to be congratulated on his skill and good fortune in escaping with Neil Sloane from an awkward predicament when his 'plane was lost in fog over Melbourne on June 9th.

Dr. J. E. Piper has been invested with the Order of Serving Brother of St. John of Jerusalem, an order conferred by the King through the Governor, Lord Huntingfield.
